TEMPERATURES IN CHICAGO

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 10, 1926.

Sunrise, 6:10; sunset, 5:51. Moon rises at 4:30 a. m. Thursday. Venus is the morning star.

Chicago and vicinity—increasingly cloudy Wednesday, followed by rain or snow at night; then two days of bright train left the city and closed along the company's right of way three miles east of Valparaiso, Ind. The freight train was Chicago bound and had reached the Grand Trunk crossing when the accident occurred.

Jailed on Mayor's Order.

Deeply incensed, Mayor Hale ordered the police to throw Ottenthaler into jail, where he stayed until Henry W. Peterson, village attorney, announced that there was nothing in the statutes about disconnected microphones. So he was released, but it is said he will be ejected from the Kiwanis club.

And that is why half the village is laughing. But nobody seems to know just who the joke is on—Ottenthaler, the mayor, or the village itself. It is agreed, however, that the town will get its free advertising.

'MA'S HOUSEBOAT WARSHIP NOW, LAWYER AVERS

"Ma" Street's houseboat, "The Vanoose," will be moved soon by the city from its moorings near the Municipal pier. But some difficulty is expected when it comes to finding who will do the job.

"Whoever touches that boat dies on the spot," shouted Parkes Longworth, attorney for "Ma," in circuit court yesterday after Judge Ira Ryne had denied him an injunction to prevent the city from carrying out its intention.

"Go ahead and move the boat," he warned. "Three of them are going to die." Two husky bailiffs led him out.

$500,000 FIRE
MENACES CITY; MAN MISSING

Ask Millions for Streets and Bridges

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The council finance committee yesterday recommended bond issues totaling $21,395,000 and within a week will consider still another issue for a wide street to the west side paralleling Jackson and Washington boulevards. Whether the new highway shall be north or south of these two avenues has not been decided. Ald Clark (30th) insisted that this new thoroughfare should be added to the bond program.

This $21,400,000 program will be submitted to the city council this afternoon, deferred, published, and a vote taken by the aldermen next Wednesday. The plan is to ask a vote of the electorate April 13, when the new major east and west street will be added to the schedule of bonds with the next week.

Would Aid Fire Department.

In the program decided on, $1,645,000 is asked for the fire department. Of this sum $200,000 is to be used to buy new fireboats, $275,000 for permanent repairs to existing fire engine houses, and $175,000 for a memorial fire station downtown. The remaining $955,000 is to be used to construct 35 fire engine houses.

Saved by Calm Night.

"Only the fact that there was no high wind prevented a spread that would have brought on a disaster only second to the great fire of 1871," he said.

Because of the rapid spread of the flames and the thousands of flying embers which rose above the roof, it was feared for a time that the fire would spread to other nearby structures and destroy the Fulton community market.

Fire Marshall Arthur Seyerlich, who took personal charge of the fight, asserted that the blaze exceeded in intensity any that had occurred in Chicago during the last year.

Saved by Calm Night.

"New street lights will use up $2,000,000 more and $350,000 is to be used to extend stop and go traffic lights.

For street improvements $13,100,000 will be asked of the voters, plus $600,000 to be used to widen improvements follows: Ashland avenue $2,000,000, Western avenue $1,000,000, La Salle street $4,200,000, Twenty-Second street and Indiana avenue $500,000, Twenty-Second between Michigan and Archer avenues $1,400,000, Milwaukee avenue $600,000, Halsted street $850,000, Ninety-fifth street $500,000, Peterson road and Kimball avenue $1,000,000, Clinton, Des Plaines, Jefferson, Polk and Taylor streets $1,000,000.

The building was occupied by two firms. The Block Lamp company had the four lower floors and the Federal Huber Plumbing and Heating company the upper four. Nick Braje, a watchman, discovered the flames on the second floor and sent an alarm.

SAVED BY CALM NIGHT.

The bureau of streets is to have 10 new sites for ward offices and 20 new offices out of the proposed bond issues at an estimated cost of $300,000.

A total of $4,100,000 is to be spent on bridges. Of this sum $200,000 are for plans for bridges over the straightened south branch of the Chicago river, $600,000 for the approaches to the Fullerton and Diversey avenue bridges, $200,000 for the completion of the One-Hundred street bridge, $1,500,000 for a new One Hundred and Sixth street bridge and $1,600,000 for a new Clark street bridge.

INDICATE HOW CHICAGO IS AFFECTED BY THE CONSTRUCTION OF THE TOLLGATE GIRDLINES.

Mr. Hoover depicted the middle west as girdled with a series of tollgates, comprised of high rail rates, Panama canal competition, and anti-war ocean routes. He said a nine foot channel from Chicago to the Gulf of Mexico is in sight, probably within the next five years.

To indicate how Chicago is affected by the construction of the tollgate girdles the secretary used as a measure the number of cents it takes to carry a ton of goods at present rates.

"Before the war New York was 1,904 cents away from San Francisco, now it is 1,896 cents.

"Chicago is 2,610 cents away from the Pacific coast and now is 2,546 cents.

"Chicago has moved 594 cents from the markets of the Atlantic seaboard and South America."

The fall in lake levels was discussed by Mr. Hoover, who said but one-third of it was due to Chicago's water diversion, the other five-sixths to climatic conditions.

DOESN'T TOUCH ON POLITICS.

Secretary Hoover's coming had been heralded by Senator William B. McKinley's managers as an answer to their prayers to the White House for aid against the attacks of Senator William E. Borah of Idaho on the world court question. Mr. Hoover, however, stuck close to the topic of waterways and did not touch upon politics.

Senators McKinley and Deneen were present at the banquet. Besides the Hoover speech, the outstanding feature was an address from Mrs. Medill McCormick, Republican national committeewoman, who went the route in behalf of Senator McKinley.

PURELY LOCAL MATTER.

"The world court has absolutely nothing whatever to do with the Illinois situation at this time," Mrs. McCormick said.

Senator Deneen, who evinced pride in his adoption as a Swede by the league twenty years and more ago, made a speech that did not dip into local politics, while Senator McKinley, who had been sick abed from a cold, appeared long enough to tell a story and left John Harrison of Danville to serve for him as pinch hitter.

After Senator McKinley, on a solo voice suggestion from Secretary Hoover, had toddled back to his bedchamber, the Danville editor proceeded to live up affairs by wallowing the direct primary law. At every sock his audience beamed.

"DIRECT primaries have accomplished the reverse of what they said they would," was Mr. Harrison's parting shot.

Representative Carl Childs was on the list of speakers, and Edwin A. Olson, district attorney, was toasts master, David Anderson serving as chairman.

OFFERS WATERWAY PLAN.

Secretary Hoover, after picturing the tollgate girdle compressing upon the middle west, depicted a Mississippi system of barge lines and a lakes-ocean seaway for deep draft steamers.

"If we examine our possibilities in this vision," he said, "we find that the rivers of the Mississippi drainage between the Alleghenies and the great plains are disposed topographically in such a fashion that by deepening them we could project a waterway connecting states through which twenty-two states could find cheaper transportation for their import and export raw materials and such advantages as port facilities and insurance.

"The system could comprise an

Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, told the world last night that the best way to settle the lake level dispute is by spending money on concrete and steel for controlling works at Niagara to stabilize the levels of the great lakes instead of squandering it on lawyers.

The secretary, addressing the thirty-second annual banquet of the John Ericsson Republican League of Illinois at the La Salle hotel, outlined an inland waterway system that would bring the middle west back to its old economic position. It would make every lake port a seaport and give the Mississippi valley 9,000 miles of water arteries that would bring cheaper transportation to twenty states.

GIRDLED BY TOLLGATES.

NO SPANIARDS DALL TO SILENCE RIFFS' BIG GUNS

Tribune Man Sees Victory in Hills Above Tetuan.

Brother of the Riffian leader, Abd-el-Krim, reported shot by tribal firing squad.

Leaped so that the guns were run-around the corner and out of sight after every shot. When the Spaniards took the hill, they found no guns, though the colonel of the Spanish battary says he saw the Rifians take one away. The hidden Riffian battery dropped 106 shells into Tetuan.

Report Krim's Brother Shot.

Spanish officers, coming to Tetuan from the hills last night, say that Abd-el-Krim's brother, Sidi Mohammed El Khatabi, arrived posthaste on the evening of March 7, was arrested by the Beni Hommar chieftain, Kharefrou, on charges of conspiracy. He was tried, and executed before a firing squad.

As far as actual fighting is concerned, this operation against the Beni Hommar may be considered as a great military achievement rather than as a military marvel.

The Spanish general staff used 15,000 men, sixteen batteries of field guns, forty bombing planes, and two cruisers for bombarding the mouth of the Wadi Zeltung.

Khatabi, who commanded the E-spanish defense, had 1,800 men and six French "seventy-five" cannon when the fight began, but his tribes deserted him throughout the engagement until his force was reduced to fewer than 400 effectives when the Spanish forces stormed the parapet at Bou Zeitung.

400 Spaniards Fall.

Gen. Goded, who directed the Spanish attack, admitted he suffered 300 casualties. The TRIBUNE correspondent is reliably informed that the Spanish killed and wounded number between 400 and 500. The operations began the morning of March 1 and ended yesterday.

Gen. Goded has now withdrawn all of his troops except those necessary to hold up blockhouses along the new line and establish telephone, wireless, and signal service with the second line.

The Riffian battery of French "seventy fives" was placed on Bou Zeitung, with its guns firing from the mouths of inclined tunnels. The tunnels were and been.

EXECUTED? GIRL'S SUIT FOR BLAIR $100,000 DENIED IN EAST

Family Says She Knows Nothing About It.

Authenticity of the $100,000 damage suit filed here yesterday in behalf of Miss Geraldine Markham, 19 year old chorus girl, against Wolcott Blair, wealthy clubman, for injuries she received in an automobile accident a year ago, was questioned last night.

At the girl's home in Brooklyn it was said that she had no knowledge of the suit and that a settlement had been reached some months ago. It was thought that Attorney James C.
O'Brien, who filed the action, might have been consulted by Miss Markham at the time of the accident, but was not now aware that the matter had been closed. Details of the settlement were refused.

Mr. O'Brien said he was unable to understand these statements. He saw Miss Markham in New York a month ago, he said, and she at that time told him to go ahead with the suit.

Wolcott Blair Denies Charges.

Meantime, a statement was made in the name of Miss Markham, signed by Watson F. Blair, capitalist, who acted as spokesman for his son, now absent on a honeymoon in Europe with Mrs. Ellen Yule Sturgis Blair, his bride of two months.

The elder Mr. Blair denied statements attributed to Miss Markham by Attorney O'Brien. The girl's complaint that she had actually been kidnapped by the Blair family after the accident and confined to St. Luke's hospital where she was not allowed to see her friends was declared untrue by Mr. Blair.

Suit Tells of Convalescence.

When she was convalescing, the suit said, she was taken to the Blair home, where she was dazed by an impossible array of butlers, maid, servants and chauffeurs. She was told,
it was charged, that a famous plastic surgeon would restore her beauty and she was given $1,800. She signed a paper in return for the money, it was said.

I Will Not Deny that Miss Markham was given every attention in the world, said Mr. Blair. He was the principal host of the Prince of Wales on the latter's visit to the city and arranged a party at the Saddle and Cycles club which kept the prince in his automobile to help her get well.

Young Blair will return to Chicago

WETS SHOW LARGE MAJORITY IN TEST VOTE IN BIG CITIES

New York, March 9.—(Special)—
The poll on the question of amending the Volstead act to permit the sale of light wine and beer, a test vote initiated by The News, New York's picture paper, in cooperation with a group of newspapers in other cities, showed a larger wet majority. The vote in some of the cities follows:

	For	Against
Greater New York.....	16,625	341
New Jersey.....	1,357	51
Washington, D. C.....	1,885	214
Cincinnati.....	1,300	89
Boston.....	13,097	3,397
New Orleans.....	601	34
Salt Lake City.....	1,003	61
Total.....	34,769	4,187

Noteworthy Shoe of the Century

TRUPEDIC SHOES are the result of the world wide research of the American Posture League.

This nationally known health organization, consisting of 1,000 foremost physicians, scientists and hygienists of the United States, has positively proved that instead of only one type of normal feet, as generally has been taken for granted, there are actually three distinct types of feet, Inflare, Straight and Outflare.

Since science has proved that there are three distinct types of feet it is obvious that any one type of shoe cannot fit all types of feet.

New, Scientific Principle

The Trupedic Shoe is the only shoe in the world made on the three-flare principle—In-flare, Straight and Outflare—corresponding to the three types of normal feet. This shoe is not a "freak" shoe, but a stylish looking anatomical arch supporting and muscle developing shoe, designed to give correct distribution of weight and by its proper balance and construction to aid the normal action of the feet so that each bone and ligament and muscle will do its own proportion of work as nature intended.

The official label of the American Posture League will be found in every pair.

Which type of foot is yours?

KRESGES MAY FOLLOW STILLMANS' REUNION IN NEW PSYCHOLOGY

MRS. S. S. KRESGE.

Janet S. Sullivan fought back from the divorce court to reconciliation through application of the teachings of "the new psychology," so are Sebastian S. Kresge, 10 cent store millionaire, and his wife reported to be finding a similarly happy ending to her $1,000,000 suit.

Through Dr. F. W. Sears, a new young advocate, it was revealed today, Mrs. Kresge has been studying "the healing of the soul" for several months and has interested her husband in the subject.

Mrs. Blair used to visit her daily, but she was never harried from her friends.
She was never in our home."

Young Blair will return to Chicago

RAIDERS BREAK DOORS, CAPTURE 48 AS GAMBLERS

Cops Crash Into West Side Club.

Raiding squads from the office of Chief of Police Collins, led by Lieut.
William V. Blau, swept into seven alleged gambling resorts yesterday, arrested more than fifty men, and seized a large quantity of gambling paraphernalia.

At the Tri-Independent Political Ward club, 814 West 83d street, Herbert Murnell, and James Fitzell were arrested. A small quantity of liquor was found in the place and the men were turned over to the government.
Alex McCabe was taken into custody at 576 South Halsted street.

Still More Are Arrested.

Irving Barbershop, at 4137
South Halsted street as a keeper. Suddenly switching their attack to the north side, the raiders went to 2910
Broadway, a cigar store, and arrested
Harry Klein and John McArthur, alleged handbook operators. At 2839
Broadway John Sheehan, alias Burns, was arrested. Fred Pope's place at 648 Diversey parkway was visited, but no arrests were made.

Break Athletic Club Doors.

The largest haul yesterday was made in the so-called Athletic club at 4003 Orden avenue. Both front and rear doors were barred when the police arrived, but they crashed in and arrested forty-eight men. Elmer Johnson was charged with being keeper and the other forty-seven were booked as inmates of gambling house. According to Lieut. Blau, the handbook conduced by Johnson and his brother William was as large as any in the city.

HERE IS B.G.A. STATEMENT ON BRENNAN FUND

Directors Don't Explain
Where Money Went.

After a three hour executive session devoted to discussing what they should tell the public about the $23,000 contribution their superintendent, E. J. Deneen, had received from George E. Brennan, Democratic boss, the board of directors of the Better Government Association appointed a committee of seven yesterday to prepare a statement.

It was their complete answer to everything; all additional questions being answered evasively and in some instances quite angrily.

Here's the Statement.

The statement follows:

"In view of the criticisms which have been made with regard to the policy of the Better Government Association in accepting or soliciting funds, the undersigned committee, appointed after full discussion by the board of directors of the association, with full power to speak in behalf of the board, desires to make the following statement:

"We take this opportunity to state most emphatically and to reiterate the policy which the association has always followed. Namely, to accept funds from the public, making no agreement with any contributor except that he will be furnished with the publications of the association and that the funds will be used to promote the policies which have been determined upon by the executive board of the association.

Do Not Question Source.

"We do not pretend to be an inquisitorial or judicial body, inquiring into the origin or sources of funds contributed to our use. We rest absolutely upon our complete and unquestionable independence in administering such funds as come to us in accordance with our best judgment in the service of good government for Chicago and Cook county.

"We believe that every dollar which we have ever received has been expended honorably and conscientiously and we are willing to submit a complete and unreserved audit and any desired information as to expenditure to a fair and impartial committee appointed by the president of the Chicago Association of Commerce, the Commercial club, or any other responsible nonpartisan civic organization.

Suggest New Policy.

"In order to insure complete knowledge on the part of the executive committee of the source of all major contribution, we recommend that hereafter all contributions of $500 or more be at once reported in writing to each of the members of the executive committee and we further recommend that the invariable policy that no officer of this association or any one affiliated with it, shall directly or indirectly solicit funds from any one seeking or receiving the association's endorsement in any political campaign. This, of course, does not preclude any one from making voluntary and absolutely unsolicited contributions if he so desires."

"In view of the wide publicity which has been given to statements and charges, which we feel reflect on the good name of the association, we therefore recommend that this statement be sent to all the members and we express to the daily press of the city of Chicago our hope that they will give us the courtesy of publishing the statement over our signatures as a complete record.

The statement was prepared by the Rev. Albert W. Palmer, pastor of First Congregational church of Oak Park; R. B. Benjamin, president of the Benjamin Electric Manufacturing company; Thomas E. D. Bradley, president of the B. G. A.; R. F. Schaefer, manager for the Commercial Club Edison company; Thomas W. Sprawls, director of Butler House; the Rev. John Thompson, pastor of First Methodist church, and Paul A. Westburg, president of the Westburg Engineering company.

The corporation counsel's office is making a vigorous drive against the injunction practice and has succeeded in having several decrees dissolved.

FLU CASES SET A NEW RECORD; RENEW WARNING

A new high record for several years was set in the number of influenza and pneumonia cases reported yesterday by Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, health commissioner.

Within the last twenty-four hours 122 cases of influenza and forty cases of pneumonia have developed, a total of 162, as compared to 112, 100, and 86, respectively, for the three previous days. There have been 813 cases in the last ten days.

The commissioner repeated his warning to infected persons to eat lightly, drink plenty of fresh air, and stay in bed for two or three days if suffering from a cold.

SAVAGE TRYING TO DECOY VOTES, CHANDLER HINTS

Criticizes Similarity of Committees' Names.

CHARGES BAD FAITH.

"With a multitude of names to choose from, your faction deliberately adopted a name for its committee which would be almost certain to be confused with the committee which I represent."

"This would have been ample justification to view the candidates of your faction with suspicion. Nevertheless, the qualifications of the individual candidates of all factions are being patiently investigated and the same standard is being applied to all."

SENATOR DENNEEN RETURNS.

Senator Charles S. Deneen arrived in our midst yesterday minus an answer to the reiterated cry from Senator William B. McKinley's camp: 'Will Deneen give us aid and succor?'

Mr. Deneen came to town with a hard cold which kept him from mingling at headquarters, but today he is to confer with his political backers.

Although the junior senator was mute on the question, the lads at headquarters were quite prolific in theorizing that the attitude of the Deneen group would be that of the Crowe-Barrett county ticket.

It impinges on the sordid end of politics—namely, the question of finances for the manning of the polls.

Mr. McKinley has the support of the Crowe-Barrett group. If his managers should add their mite to the fund for paying the Crowe-Barrett workers at the polls, it is assumed in some circles that the Deneen group would regard it as an unfriendly act, as giving aid to the Crowe-Barrett county ticket. A worker at the polls without any extra exertion can put in a word for county candidates as well as for the higher up places.

WOMAN DIES AT MORNING PRAYER.

Mrs. Mary Gratzek, 50 years old, died suddenly of heart disease yesterday morning after offering morning prayers in her home at 2922 Elias court. Her husband, John, was with her.

SAYS GRAFTERS GATHER BILLIONS FROM UNWARY

Asserting that losses caused by financial crimes—larceny, forgery, embezzlement, robbery, and fake stock sales—total three billion dollars a year in the United States, Henry Barrett Chamberlin, operating director of the Chicago crime commission, last night recommended that bankers conduct a campaign to inform the public of its danger.

LINKING M. V. L. AND B. G. A. NOT FAIR, IS CHARGE

League's Standing High, Some Aldermen Say.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Aldermanic views differed yesterday on the adoption, at a council meeting today, of the Ald. Toman resolution providing for a council investigation of charges made by the Better Government association and the Municipal Voters' league. The chief complaint against the latter organization was that it did not name the aldermen who are alleged to have collected or solicited graft, "thereby casting a cloud over honest aldermen," one a councilman phrased it.

"The league will lift the cloud within the next six weeks," it is said. "It will prepare and make public a report on each alderman in the council, telling whether he is good, bad, or indifferent in the league's opinion. It is planned to use this report in the election of 1927, unless the actions of this or that alderman in the next year justify a modification. The league, it is expected, will label as honest each alderman whom it believes merits that characteristic.

Eaton Opposes Inquiry.

Ald. Eaton [5th ward] said that he does not favor the Toman resolution, which would require a council investigation to get the facts, in my judgment, but to pan the organizations which watch the activities of public officials. If there were bona fide effort to get the facts, that would be another matter, but getting the facts is farthest from the purpose of the resolution."

Ald. Anderson [2d ward] said: "The do not see any reason for providing these organizations with a forum where they can get enormous publicity," said Ald. Moran [16th ward]. "Some people think they are all right, so let them talk. In any inquiry, I think the two should be separated."

For Separate Quiz.

"Unquestionably the resolution should be divided," said Ald. Mills [37th ward]. "The two organizations—the Better Government association and the Municipal Voters' league, are unrelated to each other, and it is utterly unfair to put them together. The league has given a useful public service for years."

Said Ald. Cross [10th ward]: "The Municipal Voters' league never endorsed me, but I think they are a darn good thing anyway, although they would not have much influence out in my ward. It seems to me that he was Hitler himself."

The top layer," she said, "is never eaten at the wedding feast. It is removed and put away for the christening. The other layers are served to the wedding guests."

Hantramck Is Again in Troubled Time.

Detroit, Mich., March 9.—[Special]—John G. Straight, safety commissioner, Lieut. Alonso Gillette, and seventeen state police took charge of Hantramck tonight after the village had been in an uproar following the shooting of Patrolman Charles Budds by Acting Chief William Marquardt.

Straight arrived while Lester Moll, assistant prosecuting attorney, was taking statements from witnesses of the shooting and announced that he was there to prevent any further trouble.

Hantramck, a place of 35,000 persons, practically all foreign born, maintains a separate village government, although it is surrounded by the city of Detroit.

Argument Over Election.

The shooting today had its origin in a discussion of the mayoralty election, four weeks ago, in which Mayor Peter Jezewski and Stephen A. Marquardt are the candidates.

Marquardt has been acting chief of police since Saturday, up to which time he was a patrolman. He is said to have been brought from Gary, Ind., two years ago and is a protégé of the mayor.

Marquardt was appointed after Jezewski had caused the dismissal of Charles T. Winograd, former safety commissioner, and William H. Berg, both of whom were appointed at the instance of Gov. Alex J. Groesbeck and against Jezewski's wishes.

Ran Foot Second at Primary.

The dismissal of both Winograd and Jezewski were dictated by political reasons, it is claimed, after Jezewski had run a poor second at the primary. The police department has always been the storm center of local politics since Hamtramck became a city in 1914.

Two years ago state troopers occupied Hantramck and succeeded in cleaning up the town, then "wide open." Their efforts also contributed to the conviction in federal court of about eighty defendants, mostly from the suburban city, on charges of conspiracy and violation of the liquor laws. One man, convicted was Jezewski, who faces a two year sentence if his appeal to the Appellate court at Cincinnati fails.

IDENTIFIED TRADE VICTIMS BODY.

The Paul railroad tracks near Milwaukee Avenue and Irving Park boulevard was identified as the scene of the triple homicide of Niles Center. Cards in the man's pockets at first led the authorities to believe that he was Elmer Baumhardt.

BRIAND BACK ON JOB; PICKS NINTH FRENCH CABINET

BY JAY ALLEN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, March 9.—(AP)—Aristide Briand, at present French foreign minister, has returned, and probably has become an indispensable to his country in peace as Georges Clemenceau was in war.

When Paris was under the range of the German guns, France turned to Clemenceau, and he became the father of victory. With the last days of the republic, the French statesman was called by the choice of a man qualified to lead France out of her present predicament, as he emerged from Elysee palace, spoke the name "Briand."

For the last two days every prominent statesman consulted by the chief of state on the choice of a man qualified to lead France out of her present predicament, as he emerged from Elysee palace, spoke the name "Briand."

The political luminaries forming the new Briand cabinet reveal a noticeable shift to the center. Besides former Finance Minister Charles Chautemps, minister of the interior; René Renault, minister of justice; and M. Daladier, minister of public instruction in the last cabinet, as well as M. Chauvin, subsecretary of the devastated regions, will now be in the cabinet. These were all members of the left wing radical socialist party, whose defection was responsible for the downfall of the Briand cabinet Saturday morning.

In a frantic night marked by dozens of consultations M. Briand is believed to have offered the finance post to Joseph Caillaux, M. Lamouroux, and probably M. Denomme and Charles Duval, but the friction of his efforts was evident when he called M. Briand at midnight to inform President Doumergue that the vacancy was as yet unfilled.

President Doumergue had to do a lot of coaxing to persuade M. Briand, disgruntled with the chamber's fatal vote Saturday morning, that the defeat was M. Doumergue's and not his. However, the chief, and perhaps only incentive for the literally frenzied maneuver to take place, is the bribe known to be disloyal to him in his genuine alarm over the situation at Geneva, where Paris believes anything sinister is likely to happen. He did not want to see his work at Locarno wrecked.

Only 600 feet from Madden Bros.' Property

The completion of this $50,000 station will be an important event to those who own Madden Bros.' Mundelein property, for it is certain to be followed by a marked increase in property values. Our property is only two blocks—600 feet—from the site of this new station, the building of which is a fact and not a mere proposal. And it is not too late for you to secure a lot in this property for as little as $600.

Beautiful Mundelein, the Athens of America

Our belief in the rise in values of our property is not based on mere guess-work or imagination, but on cold, hard, incontrovertible facts. During our 41 years in the real estate business we have always sold and bought property on a sound basis. This policy has given us the reputation for fair dealing that we now enjoy. We are still buying and selling property for clients who have been on our books since we started.

Read These Reasons Why Mundelein Is Our Best Offer

1. Mundelein is not an imaginary city of the far distant future. It is very real. Its area is now being purchased daily, and enormous homes are being built for executives in every walk of life.

2. Great religious, educational, financial and transportation interests are determined to make Mundelein the most beautiful, moral city of hundreds of thousands.

3. The new high speed Shabbona Valley Line of the North Shore Line will open up Mundelein to the Loop in less than one hour.

4. Plans have been made for improvements in cost $25,000,000 to develop this locality.

ROCHE ACCUSED IN ALLEGED PLOT ON EXPERT FEES

My Employees Testify to Irregularity in Vouchers.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Frank J. Roche, chief accountant in the board of public improvements, was named in Judge Hugo Black's court yesterday as one of the "unknown conspirators" whose acts will be brought to light in the real estate expert suit now on trial.

Clerks and bureau chiefs from the controller's office testified that the payrolls of large amounts of money, three real estate experts, Ernest H. Ladd, A. S. Morigold, and Edward C. Waller, in 1920 was regarded in that office at least as irregular or peculiar because payments were made out of a fund which made no specific appropriation for such purpose.

Point Stretches in Payment.

Somebody had to stretch a point to get the vouchers through, according to the evidence. George E. Schneider, classification clerk, said that he believed the vouchers were drawn from an "S" or general account after they previously had been drawn upon a "B" or specific account. He put a mark on the vouchers and called the attention of the chief auditor, Joseph Harvey, to the matter.

"I told him," he said, "that these vouchers were charged to an 'S' account and in reading over the council order, I did not understand that they had authority to charge it to an 'S' account. I do not recall just what Mr. Harvey told me."

These particular vouchers did not come back to him, but later he had another similar set and took these directly to the board of local improvement for a ruling.

"I told Mr. Roche," he said, "that广播wood Mr. Harvey thought this was not the right charge for these vouchers, and Mr. Roche told me that he had orders to put them through, and he went to the auditor's office with me and he spoke to Mr. Harvey while I sat back."

Witnesses Object to Testimony.

Attorney Samuel A. Ettinger, objecting to the witness, former Mayor William Hale Thompson and former Controller George F. Harding, could not be found in a conspiracy charge by the conversion of city hall subordinates.

The vouchers went through by this pressure from above and they came to the warrant clerk to be written into a proper time and cause.

George E. Schneider, warrant clerk, testified that a package of a dozen of these vouchers "got by" while he was away. There was no clause written on the face of the vouchers; he said, referring the payment to a specific council order, such as was customary. He collected these vouchers, which he considered wrongfully paid, and took them to the board of local improvements.

"Who did you give them there?" asked Attorney Weymouth Kirkland.

"Mr. Roche."

"I told him these vouchers got by—had no clause on them. I told him they would not get by until they bore the clause of the council approval."

"What did he say?"

"I move to strike out the snarl," said Attorney George W. Miller.

"I think it ought to stay in," said Mr. Kirkland. "We are going to cover Mr. Roche up as one of the unknown conspirators."

THE COURT—What he said may stand.

MR. KIRKLAND—What did you say to him when he said that?

A.—I said, "Call it what you like, master, but you are going to get that clause on there before you get those vouchers by me."

Got Proper Stamp on Warrants.

Q.—What did you do with the vouchers, leave them with him?

A.—Left them there, yes.

Q.—Did you see them again afterward?

A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—And were they then stamped?

A.—The warrants were then stamped. The words stamped on the vouchers were, "See Council Proceedings of Feb. 5, 1920, page 1917."

MR. KIRKLAND—John H. Johnson, supervisor and expenditure officer, the controller's office, told how the various payments to the experts were credited in the books. Henry F. Hildreth, assistant chief clerk, testified to the sales of the City Beautiful bonds and the credits to the city treasury.

Point Stretches in Payment.

Somebody had to stretch a point to get the vouchers through, according to the evidence. George E. Schneider, classification clerk, said that he believed the vouchers were drawn from an "S" or general account after they previously had been drawn upon a "B" or specific account. He put a mark on the vouchers and called the attention of the chief auditor, Joseph Harvey, to the matter.

"I told him," he said, "that these vouchers were charged to an 'S' account and in reading over the council order, I did not understand that they had authority to charge it to an 'S' account. I do not recall just what Mr. Harvey told me."

These particular vouchers did not come back to him, but later he had another similar set and took these directly to the board of local improvement for a ruling.

"I told Mr. Roche," he said, "that广播wood Mr. Harvey thought this was not the right charge for these vouchers, and Mr. Roche told me that he had orders to put them through, and he went to the auditor's office with me and he spoke to Mr. Harvey while I sat back."

Witnesses Object to Testimony.

Attorney Samuel A. Ettinger, objecting to the witness, former Mayor William Hale Thompson and former Controller George F. Harding, could not be found in a conspiracy charge by the conversion of city hall subordinates.

The vouchers went through by this pressure from above and they came to the warrant clerk to be written into a proper time and cause.

TO PASS THE TAX AMENDMENT IS TO DEFEAT REDISTRICTING.

At the coming election in November the voters will be asked to ballot on the amendment to the Illinois tax law which was approved by both houses of the legislature last year.

The amendment loosens the constitutional restrictions which make the present tax law a rigid affair. It makes the revenue article elastic, granting to the legislature the power to alter the law in order to meet changing conditions. Classification of property for taxation is provided for, and the legislature is given the right to put a state income tax into effect if it seems such a tax advisable.

The present law dates back 55 years, when nearly all property was tangible. Intangibles, today, represent more than one-half the property of the state, but pay only a very small percentage of the taxes.

First thought there seems to be no reason why the proposed amendment should not be passed. The rights of a minority are protected by the provision that the legislature, with its newly granted power, can pass tax measures only by a two-thirds vote.

It takes a second look at the amendment to realize that to pass it is tantamount to Chicago's giving up the fight for just representation at Springfield. If Chicago is satisfied with the protection offered her minority representatives in the provision for a two-thirds vote, then she is retiring from her righteous position which is that nothing less than an equitable redistricting is acceptable to her. Once let the principle be established in the all-important field of tax legislation that a two-thirds vote will satisfy Chicago, and the city's case is gone.

It is a choice between an immediate revision of the revenue act and fair representation. You cannot have the first, then expect to get the second. And the second—representation—is by far the more important of the two. If enough Chicago voters see the danger to the redistricting case to defeat the amendment in November, then that will be the downstate legislators' fault for having failed to live up to their oath of office.

Most of the intangible property is in Chicago. It is to the advantage of downstate to get it into the open and make it taxable. But downstate must give Chicago fair representation first. Only after that has been settled can Chicago listen to talk in favor of a new tax law, no matter what the majority provided for in the amendment.

LET CAROL TRY TO GET IN.

Of the three women who figure publicly as past and present consorts of Prince Carol of Roumania, only one receives any of our sympathy—Zizi Lambrino, the wife of the errant heir apparent who was cast aside so that he might marry the Princess Helena of Greece. Zizi is suing the prince for $10,000 francs and we hope she gets it.

The Greek princess knew what sort of a man she was drawing when she married him. When he deserted her for the red-headed Magda Lupescu, Helene got exactly the same thing she had handed to Zizi. If Zizi wins her suit perhaps it will help stop the polygamous promiscuity which Europe tolerates in its rulers.

The trouble is, of course, that the most ardent royalist does not expect kings and princes to be moral, and they live up to expectations. Royalty can get away with licenses that would cause their humble subjects to be outlawed, and the higher the rank the more license they enjoy.

Whatever the silliness of it, it seems to have been established as a rule governing the United States department of immigration that it shall act as the censor of morals for all European blue bloods who seek leave to visit this country. Come right down to it, it's lots of fun to close the door on a countess. And now that the Cathcart case has whetted our appetite, we want bigger game.

Just let Prince Carol try to get past Ellis Island... Let him try once, that's all. Zizi can come in. But Carol and Magda. Back to the boat, Prince, back to the boat.

THE HIGH HAT AT GENEVA.

Germany and the United States were regarded as permanent members of the council of the league of nations when the one would be allowed in and the other could be persuaded in. The place for the United States was set aside and the league still has it in its hope chest. When Germany was about to be admitted some of the inherent troubles in the league's mechanics and doctored cropped out.

Brazil, Spain, Poland, and China, with various sympathetic blocs in support, demanded permanent seats along with Germany. China may have only contributed something to be laughed off, but its application contained the ethical question whether in an altruistic arrangement the big powers were to be always the big bosses. The answer is yes, but it does not fit in the moral architecture of the league.

There is important intrigue for balance of power in the pressure for Poland and Spain, but there is also among the lesser peoples, including some of the little brown brothers, the growing idea that it is not consistent with their dignity to be always sent for a walk in the park when the boys in the back room have a particularly interesting chicken fight.

The great powers may high hat the little ones, but it needs a crust to do it when the government of the world is to be moral and not materialistic.

COMPELSSION IN FARMING.

Senator Howell, Republican, of Nebraska, is for compulsory cooperation in the sale of agricultural products. He told President Coolidge he thought the cooperative measures now in congress were all useless as remedies for the farmer.

Compulsory cohesion to a common purpose can be brought about in two ways. One is violence, running out the scab by the slugger. The other is by law or government decree. The restriction of British rubber production is achieved by enactment. Brazil has experimented with government control in this fashion.

Labor unions do not need a legislative enactment. Force is behind the union card and when a union thinks it necessary or expedient to protect the common purpose and interests against the outside competitor it drives him off the job.

Kentucky tobacco growers used violence to restrict the tobacco output, destroying property in night raids, attacking nonconforming planters, and using terrorism to get cooperation and cohesion. Without so much violence there has been use of the same methods in our own milk producing regions.

It is to be expected and may be inevitable that if a certain number of producers join to create favorable markets and good prices, others will remain outside the association which does this, avoid any part in the common effort, expenditure, and, when necessary, sacrifice, and the outsiders will get just as much benefit without any trouble or they will break the market and make the effort a failure.

The cooperators may fight the outsiders, slug them, drive them out of market, destroy their produce, and intimidate them. That is one way of making it compulsory. The other way is for the government to prohibit any farmer from selling his crop unless he sells them through cooperation, assuming that we are at a stage where government interference with the individual, his work, and his way of making a living is within its authority.

Which method of compulsion does Senator Howell favor and how many farmers want either method used?

IN PRAISE OF MR. MELLON.

The government, which has been doing most of its refinancing through short-term treasury notes, is about to float an issue of $500,000,000 in bonds having a term of from twenty to thirty years.

They will bear interest at 3% per cent and will be sold at 100%. The treasury needs $750,000,000 this month to meet its various commitments, including the retirement of $225,000,000 of the national debt.

Mr. Mellon has persisted in his policy of steadily reducing the national debt and he has handled the delicate financial operations with consummate skill. The national credit was never higher. He has retired more than $5,000,000,000 of the debt since it reached its peak at the close of the war period. New loans have been timed to avoid the slightest flurry in the money market. The interest rate has been lowered.

Mr. Mellon has earned a place for himself in the ranks of our great secretaries of the treasury.

CHURCH AND STATE.

There is all the difference in the world between the Scopes anti-evolution case which was tried at Dayton, Tenn., last summer and the case of the Rev. J. H. Geelkerken of Holland, who is being tried by a commission of the general synod of the Dutch Reformed church. Dr. Geelkerken has been told that he must accept a literal interpretation of the book of Genesis or resign, in a fashion similar to that in which Scopes was ordered by law to cease teaching evolution or face punishment.

There, however, the similarity ceases. The Dutch church is a religious body, incorporated for the purpose of worshiping and teaching according to a certain well defined creed. Those who seek membership in the church must first profess belief in its creed. Those who seek ordination in the church should be firm still in their religious convictions. If member or minister ceases to believe according to the creed he automatically ceases to be eligible for membership or ministry in that particular church body, and the church body has the right to do as the Dutch church has done, and as the Episcopal church in America did in the case of Bishop Brown, to require conformity to the creed or resignation.

Scopes case, on the other hand, grew out of the imposition of the belief of one particular group of evangelists on a statutory master pertaining to people of any or all beliefs. It was church rule in a state matter. Teachers in a school supported by a church might be limited according to the beliefs of that particular church. Teachers in a state school are to be limited only by truth, decency, and the requirements of child welfare as interpreted by the will of all the people, not the people of any one creed. As long as no religious limitation on American citizenship is imposed, so long must no religious limitation on the exercise of any state function be imposed.

The case in Holland is an example of individual religious discipline. The Scopes case was an example of wholesale religious tyranny.

Editorial of the Day

(The Bloomington Daily Pantograph.)

The board of trustees of the University of Illinois is composed of nine persons whose term of office runs six years, three trustees retiring every second year. This is the one state office which is not subject to primary election, as the trustees are nominated in the party convention immediately following the primaries.

It is the custom of the University of Illinois Alumni association to carefully study the situation and recommend three candidates to each party, these persons being carefully selected because of fitness and ability. There are six recommended candidates this year, three for each party, Republican and Democratic.

The duties of the trustees consist in frequent meetings at the university and the passing on the election of the president and other officers, and overseeing the erection of buildings and other work directly connected with the management of our great university.

The citizens of this great state are primarily interested in seeing that the University of Illinois is maintained in an efficient manner, and for that reason should be interested in the ability of the trustees.

Every two years there is an appropriation from the state of a large sum of money, the last amount being $10,500,000. With this sum, together with the income from tuition fees and other amounts, the university is maintained, the agricultural experiment station work is fostered, and supervision is given over all of the farm bureaus, experiment stations, and other activities which have a direct bearing on the welfare of every citizen in this great commonwealth.

Consequently, it is only right that every person should take a great interest in the election of proper candidates.

Brazil, Spain, Poland, and China, with various sympathetic blocs in support, demanded permanent seats along with Germany. China may have only contributed something to be laughed off, but its application contained the ethical question whether in an altruistic arrangement the big powers were to be always the big bosses. The answer is yes, but it does not fit in the moral architecture of the league.

LEAD POISONING.

ALTHOUGH we know all we want to about lead poisoning, there are many persons displaying symptoms of this disorder yearly, which goes to show that knowing how to do this thing and doing the right thing, in the right way, at the right time, is another. The measures which the laws of most states require are as follows:

First—if there be lead in the air, of any kind, or in the fumes or dust, the person should wear a mask or respirator.

Second—the room must be kept scrupulously clean, as far as dust and particularly lead dust, is concerned.

Third—facilities for washing the hands and the face in comfort and convenience should be provided.

Other provisions generally thought to be less important are: Prohibition of chewing and smoking; prohibition of eating in or near the workshop; the taking of one to two teaspoonsful of epsom salts dissolved in water, once or twice a week.

But the provisions are so poorly carried out, even when the masks are provided, that it has been proposed that some of them be put on a more compulsory basis. The proposal is that a form be designed for the purpose stand over the workers at the wash basins and personally see that each person washes his hands before the noon meal and be forewarning work in the afternoon; also see that each person washes with a solution of epsom salts and takes one or two teaspoonsful of the salts, dissolved in water, once or twice a week.

Dr. D. McCall would go a step further in the use of salts. He recommends that the following solution be used: one-half ounce of epsom salts, 16 ounces Glaser's salt, 1% fluid drachm of a solution of sulphuric acid, and enough water to make 80 ounces. This is the stock solution.

This stock solution should be very plainly labeled. One ounce of the stock solution is added to 16 ounces of water to make the solution ready for use. Each worker takes about two ounces of this once or twice a day. He rinses his mouth with one ounce and then drinks one ounce. Figured on normal price for the drug, 80 ounces of the stock solution, costing about 40 cents, is enough for the use of five men twice a day for one year.

The theory is that the sulphates in the solution will be the lead in the person's mouth and stomach insoluble. It is figured that if a person swallows less than one-thirty-fifth of a grain of lead a day he will rarely develop lead colic and still more rarely will he develop other symptoms of lead poisoning. Careful estimates of the amount of lead liable to be swallowed and the amount which will be made insoluble by the sulphates show the proposed dose to be safe and practicable.

When the mixture is used as a mouth wash the taste of salts is not objectionable. There is no little drug in the solution that a very heavy overdose of it would cause no trouble.

The necessity for precautions is greatly increased when the workers are young or when they are females or any age.

CONTAGIOUSNESS OF MEASLES.

E. S. writes: Does any one know how measles is contracted?

Recently a two year old male child had a severe case of measles. The child's aunt, a graduate nurse, nursed a case of measles outside. Every day she visited the child's home, but was very careful, always bathed, changed her clothes, and never went nearer than twelve feet of child.

In the child's home, in basement, of the janitor's children had measles two weeks previously. These children played in baby carriage of said child.

The parents blame aunt for bringing the germ.

REPLY.

Assuming the fact to be as you state them, this two year old child contracted measles from the janitor's children.

PICTURE ALICE AS SIREN WHO STOLE HUSBAND

U. S. May Act on Her Trip with Pike.

BY SIDNEY SUTHERLAND.

Introducing Alice Worthington, in two new roles, one of which she admits, and the other of which she denies.

The first presents the tall, slender, handsome blonde daughter of John W. Worthington, Wolf of La Salle street, who expired last week in a federal cell, as a married woman, a marriage heretofore kept secret and presently to be dissolved in the crucible of divorce.

The second rôle portrays the heiress to the exceedingly mysterious estate of a famous con man as a lover pirate, a siren who has kidnapped, stole the husband of Mrs. Gertrude E. Pike, a comely young matron of Los Angeles, and came with him to Chicago. This accusation finds Alice firm in her denials.

The story of the marriage of old John's daughter was told yesterday afternoon to THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE in these words:

"On Dec. 15, 1923, I was married to Carleton D. Ottosen. He was then 30 years old, and was practicing law in the office of Frank B. Reed, room 802 Nixon building, 105 West Monroe street. He lived with his mother at 6025 N. Paulina avenue. We were married by Rev. Charles F. Flanagan."

"We went to live at my husband's south side home. He was a splendid chap, but we soon discovered that we were not congenially mated. I was 19 at the time. Nevertheless, we tried to make a go of it for a few months. Finally, on April 1, 1924, I left him—although we parted good friends and are to this day."

"On April 15 I got a wife that my father had suffered a stroke of paralysis and was dying. I hastened to Los Angeles and now, now Mr. Ottosen again. Last October he filed suit for divorce here in Chicago, charging cruelty. Of course, I shall not contest it."

Ottosen, it was said last night by his mother, is at present in Florida. She denied he was married, and declined to answer any questions.

Day Full of Action.

In the kaleidoscope of developments yesterday in the strange Worthington story, there appeared several new phases. Among them were (1) another mysterious will is missing; (2) the Probate court took a hand in the settlement of the estate; (3) Uncle Sam's tax collector arrived to collect back taxes; (4) William A. Cunnies, Alice's attorney, decided to act to represent the girl in her quarrel with Attorney

Robert L. Cohan, the Wolf's lawyer, who reported a $3,500,000 will was stolen from his desk; and (5) a Los Angeles housewife accused Alice of stealing Harry Martin Pike, her husband.

The Los Angeles dispatches stated that in September, last, Pike vanished from home at the same time that Alice, who had decided to return to Chicago, Mrs. Pike, the mother of a 3 year old boy, instructed federal agents to begin proceedings against Harry and Alice under the Mann act.

To the above report Alice replied that it was not true. She said Pike had been deserted by his wife and intended to divorce her. She described him as "merely a friend."

More Will Mystery.

Inquiry of H. D. Pettibone, trust officer at the Chicago Title and Trust company, elicited the information that the Worthington will of 1909, which Alice sought to obtain, was never recorded. Mr. Pettibone said that nothing in the company's archives, nor in the memory of officials, indicated Worthington had ever filed a will with them. Mr. Pettibone intimated that the Wolf's reputed will was such that a will even for safekeeping, would have been received with no little misgiving.

H. C. Bremer, in charge of the Central Trust company receivership, is out of town, and nobody else could give any information as to what the Worthington assets might amount to. Judge Horner of the Probate court ordered the interests of parties to his conveyance tomorrow for the purpose of appointing an administrator. This was done at the request of Percy H. Coffin, Cook county public administrator, who was eager to avoid having the estate dissipated.

WIFE MAKES CHARGES.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 9.—[Special]—Mrs. Gertrude E. Pike today told department of justice agents that her husband, Harry M. Pike, deserted her in 1925 to live with Alice Worthington, and that Pike and Miss Worthington, together last September, traveled to Chicago by automobile.

Leon E. Pike, a brother, supported his sister-in-law's charges.

Federal Agent L. C. Wheeler then said the evidence may warrant Mann act proceedings against Pike and Miss Worthington.

Leon Pike declared today that he had a postal card from Harry and Miss Worthington, in Albuquerque, that they were stranded there four days on their way to Chicago last autumn, and that Miss Worthington pawned jewelry to complete the Chicago journey.

Miss Harry Pike also stated that a letter from her husband, sent from Chicago a month ago, told her that he intended to divorce her.

One of the robbers rang the doorbell and told Mrs. Jacobson he had a package to give her. She opened the door and the other crowded in. One stood over her while the others ransacked the flat. The loot included two diamond rings and two fur coats belonging to Mrs. Jacobson and a watch and several necklaces owned by her husband, Abraham, who is proprietor of the Elks hotel at 435 South Clark street.

Mrs. Jacobson freed herself after the gang left. She found that telephone wires in the apartment had been cut and she had to go to a neighbor's home to call the police.

BANDITS TIE UP WOMAN IN FLAT, GET $10,000 LOOT

Four men, armed and masked, entered the home of Mrs. May Jacobson, 220 East Garfield boulevard, yesterday afternoon, and after binding her hand and foot escaped with jewelry and clothing valued at $10,000.

One of the robbers rang the doorbell and told Mrs. Jacobson he had a package to give her. She opened the door and the other crowded in. One stood over her while the others ransacked the flat. The loot included two diamond rings and two fur coats belonging to Mrs. Jacobson and a watch and several necklaces owned by her husband, Abraham, who is proprietor of the Elks hotel at 435 South Clark street.

DEVER MUM ON O'BRIEN'S THREAT TO EXPOSE COPS

Capt. Murphy Is Still on Job After Beer Raid.

If State Representative Lawrence J. O'Brien expected to scare anybody by his threat to "blow the lid off north side police rottenness" if Capt. Daniel Murphy isn't transferred within twenty-four hours, he apparently had an audience composed largely of women. Neither Mayor Dever nor Chief Collins seemed in the least perturbed by the promised exposé, and late yesterday Capt. Murphy, also quite calm, was carrying on his duties at the Chicago avenue station as usual.

Ultimatum Follows Raid.

Representative O'Brien issued his ultimatum to the city officials as a result of Monday night's raid, led by Capt. Murphy, on the West End Democratic club, 1220 North Wells street, despite an injunction forbidding police to molest the place. Armed with hatchets, the squad chopped up furniture, and poured two barrels of beer into the gutters.

In the Chicago avenue court yesterday, Judge Max Lusser dismissed the charge of possessing slot machines and illegal beer preferred by the police against George Cleary, 65 Maple street, booked as the bartender. Capt. Murphy declared that O'Brien himself owned the place, which was vehemently denied by the lawyer.

It was two hours after the hearing that O'Brien, accompanied by State Senator John T. Joyce and State Representative Charles H. Weber, laid his demand for Murphy's transfer before Mayor Dever.

Collins Sees No Reason to Act.

Although the mayor declined to discuss the case later, Chief Collins was emphatic in his statement that he did not propose to censure or transfer the captain on the evidence presented.

"If O'Brien has anything to expose him go ahead and expose it," the chief said. "I cannot see where I have any cause to take a hand in the affair."

Capt. Murphy also was perfectly willing for O'Brien to go ahead with its charges.

Another challenge was flung at O'Brien by Corporation Counsel Francis X. Busch, who announced that he would move immediately to have the injunction protecting the club dissolved.

GIVES $10 MORE FOR WIDOW OF DEAD POLICEMAN

A check for $10, representing a second contribution from H. Hansen, salesman, to the fund collected for the family of Mrs. Thomas Organ, reached Mrs. TARSUNS yesterday.

The widow of a policeman whose death was caused by a ruptured heart following a struggle with a man he was attempting to arrest, was committed some time ago to the state hospital at Dunning, where it is said her recovery would be a matter of a long time. Her physical condition, however, is satisfactory.

James Coleman, brother of Mrs. Organ, who has assumed the care of her six children, received from Tax Taxine a few days ago check for $654, representing the donations to date.

DRY AIR FORCE TO GUARD EAST COAST ORGANIZED BY U. S.

Washington, D. C., March 9.—(AP)—Organization of the nation's first dry air corps was ordered today by Rear Admiral Billard, commandant of the coast guard.

The deficiency appropriation bill just signed by President Coolidge allows $150,000 for establishment of the coast guard air service. With this fund Admiral Billard plans to establish five bases along the Atlantic coast from New England to Florida where patrol boat stations now are located. A plane equipped with a crew of four men will be assigned to each of these bases.

Additional appropriations will be asked next year. Admiral Billard said for air bases in the great lakes, the Gulf of Mexico and the Pacific coast, if the new service proves successful.

SULPHUR CLEARS AN ITCHING SKIN

Washington, D. C., March 9.—(AP)—Chargers that the Canadian schooner Eastwood was shelled 21 miles off the New Jersey coast have been brought to the attention of the state department by Sir Ernest Howard, the British ambassador.

The master of the schooner, the home port of which is Lunenburg, Nova Scotia, and members of the crew have charged that they were fired upon by the U. S. coast guard cutter Seneca early in February, when more than one hundred sailing distance from the American coast, which has been denied by officers of the Seneca.

At the request of the Canadian department of external affairs, which has received a protest from the owner of the Eastwood with affidavits from the crew and photographs of the ship, the British ambassador submitted a written request for information to the state department, and this has been referred to the treasury department, which has jurisdiction over the coast guard.

The ambassador's communication asked information as to whether the Seneca or any other revenue cutter or American government vessel had shelled the schooner.

KING AS

Assails U.

Dep

Washington, D. C.—Senator King again brought the center of the country's attention to the situation in Mexico, calling a Senate session for a full and complete investigation since the revolution began. The latter ran long to transmit incompatible wireless messages, all protests remaining unanswered respecting suffered by Americans in Mexico, exchanged between 1910 and 1919, including outrages perpetrated against property in Mexico, since relating to sending from the United States to Mexico.

Charges Filed

Senator King accused the Mexican government of having had partial portions of Mexican territory, and that "feudalism" has been procured among the Mexican residents in the United States.

He demanded an administration of justice, and arbitration, fully entered the question, asking for legislation to prohibit alienation of aliens, or that of Manuel, he charged, had no right to do so.

"The record of

Calls After

Senator King made a report in damages suffered in Mexico. He said, that 471 Americans were killed in Mexico during the revolution and mistreated, denied the protection of the government.

He declared that no confessions of a nature had been made and that the provisions can be easily met.

Senator Borah, chairman of the foreign relations committee, took exception to the remarks and observations. He said he had no objection to the report.

KING ASKS FULL DATA ON MEXICO ROW SINCE 1910

Assails U. S. Officials for Deportations.

Washington, D. C., March 8.—[Special.]—Senator King [Rep., Utah] again brought the Mexican problem to the center of the stage in the senate today, when he introduced two resolutions. One demanded an investigation of immigration conditions along the Mexican border and the other called upon Secretary of State Kellogg for a full and comprehensive report on all developments in the Mexican situation since 1910.

The latter resolution asked Mr. Kellogg to transmit to the senate, "If not incompatible with the public interest, all protests received by the department respecting outrages and damages suffered by American citizens in Mexico and the text of all correspondence exchanged between the state department and the government of Mexico since 1910, containing protests against crimes, outrages, and spoliations perpetrated against American citizens and property in Mexico." The correspondence relating to payment of claims arising from the outrages also was called for.

Changes Frighten Industrialists.

Senator King was bitter in his denunciation of department of justice and immigration officials. He declared they had participated in the illegal deportations of Mexican political refugees and that "notorious indictments" had been protracted against innocent Mexican residents in San Antonio.

He demanded an investigation of the administration of justice relating to immigration, particularly with respect to arbitrary arrests of aliens who lawfully entered the United States. He asked for legislation which would forbid the arbitrary arrest and deportation of aliens, calling attention to the case of Manuel Dimitro Torres, who, he charged, had been returned to Mexico for no deportable offense, and there released.

"The record of the labor department in the case of the murder of Torres is reprehensible," he asserted. "Torres was returned secretly by immigration authorities. The American official knew he was being delivered to his death."

Called Attention to Report.

Senator King called attention to the senate report in 1920 on outrages and damages suffered by American citizens in Mexico. This report showed, he said, that 461 Americans had been killed, 1,111 injured, and that several hundred others had been assaulted and mistreated, because they were denied the protection of the Mexican government.

He declared that since the report had been made numerous seizures and confiscations of American property had been made and are now going on under the present administration, which he called "Mexican constitution of 1917."

Senator Borah [Rep., Idaho], chairman of the foreign relations committee, took exception to Senator King's remarks and defended Mexico's actions. He said he had deep sympathy for Mexico in her efforts to work out her own internal problems and that the senate ought to refrain from undue criticism of Mexico at this time.

MAY LET U. S. PRIEST STAY

Washington, D. C., March 8.—[AP]—Acting on instructions of the state department, Ambassador Sheffield at Mexico City has effected a "satisfactory" settlement of the case of the Rev. Fr. Krill, an American Catholic priest, who was arrested with his wife in the state of Vera Cruz. The ambassador said authorities at Jalapa were disposed to permit Father Krill to remain.

MOB PROTESTANT MINISTER

[Copyright: 1926 By the New York Times.] Mexico City, March 9.—The Universal published a telegram from Tolosa, capital of the state of Mexico, stating that the Rev. Charles Lee Neal, a Protestant minister, had been assaulted in the village of Tlacotepco by a mob. The Rev. Mr. Neal was seriously wounded by a stone and he also received many punches from the infuriated crowd.

Western Union Signs Pact for Mexican Wire System

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Mexico City, March 9.—The Mexican government and the Mexican Telegraph company signed a twenty year contract today with the Western Union Telegraph company which will greatly facilitate wire communication between the United States and Mexico. Press day rates between Mexico and New York will be 3 cents a word and night rates 5 cents, with a direct wire to New York and the right to use wireless in emergency. The Mexican Telegraph company under the contract becomes part of the Western Union. The new rates become effective April 1.

ASSAULT JURY GETS GLIMPSE OF FLAPPER STYLES

Marion, Mich., March 9.—[Special]—Miss Louise King, 20 year old co-ed, was the last state rebuttal witness today against Arthur Rich, who is charged with criminally attacking her on May 25 at Battle Creek. She was dismissed after amassing a series of accusations and arguments which the jury were starting. The case should go to the jury tomorrow.

Miss King was dressed in virtually every detail as she was on the night of the alleged assault. The garments were of the flapper mode, which W. J. Barnard, defense attorney, has claimed invited assault.

Challenges Rich Family.

In his opening statement, Clyde A. Courtwright, Calhoun county prosecutor, avoided such subjects as liquor, cigarettes, bobbed hair and rolled stockings and devoted himself strictly to the offense charged. Once he turned and faced young Rich and the Rich family flanking him.

"I challenge them," he declared, "to show in the record where one solitary witness, called Louise King, an immoral woman, except the defendant Arthur Rich."

"We want explained, how he crawled through between his hands and knees in search of her slippers, and emerged from this thorny entanglement without a single scratch on his hands or face."

Courtwright told the jury it could find that Miss King was drunk on the night of May 25, but that it would have to determine whether she was with Arthur Rich on that night.

"Let us have her as drunk as the defense would make her out," he said. "If she was, then Arthur Rich should have been her protector and not her attacker."

MUNDAY WINS IN FIRST BATTLE TO REGAIN FORTUNE

Charles B. Munday, for twelve years in obscurity following the $2,000,000 failure of the La Salle Street Trust and Savings bank, of which he was vice president and general manager, yesterday won a preliminary legal victory in his fight to stage a financial comeback. Munday had to resort at once to portion of his fortune and be able to pay to full the claims of hundreds of depositors who lost all in the bank crash.

Judge Jett in Circuit court at Elkhorn, Ill., yesterday ruled that Munday has sufficient grounds for bringing suit against the majority stockholders of Rosedale cemetery and against the Chicago Title and Trust company for an accounting on notes held against them by the former banker. The defendants had sought to have the Hill dismissed.

Officials of the cemetery and of the trust company had previously filed suit to obtain payment on bonds of the Litchfield Mill and Flour company, a Munday concern which failed when the bank crash came. Munday sold the cemetery association $100,000 worth of bonds and with the money purchased cemetery stock in a move to get control.

Now you can face them with a smile!

Do you face tall piles of dishes and pots and pans 3 times every day?

Here is the way to meet them with a smile—use Chipsol.

Chipsol gives rich, foamy suds—a dishpan full—at the touch of hot water! In go the dishes—out they come, clean and gleaming—with only a little light mopping, even on pots and pans!

This amazing new flaked soap of Procter & Gamble makes all washing and cleaning easier. It is the perfect household soap. Quick, convenient, safe, economical.

Have you a neighbor who washes her clothes with Chipsol? She will tell you how it saves time and strength—how it does away with all chipping and melting of bar soap—all hard rubbing. Chipsol's instant suds soak clothes clean.

See Chipsol at your grocer's today—the big blue-and-orange boxes—packed tight against dust. To try it, buy the 10c size. Then when you use it regularly, buy the big size.

PROCTER & GAMBLE

Tub washing—quicker this way—

Put dry Chipsol in the tub. Run in hot water and you have suds at once. Add cold water to make the suds lukewarm. Twenty minutes soaking in Chipsol suds loosens the dirt. Squeeze sudsy water through the clothes, rubbing badly soiled pieces lightly between the hands. Rinse and wring.

White clothes without boiling—

Chipsol makes your clothes white without boiling. You save work, gas, time and all the unpleasantness of steam and odor. Of course, if you prefer to boil your clothes, it's quicker and easier to boil them with Chipsol.

Suds before you start the machine—

Put dry Chipsol flakes in machine and run in hot water. You get suds instantly without running the motor. This saves time and electricity. Put the cleanest clothes in the first "load," leaving the dirtier things until the last.

Dishes in one-third less time—

Rin the hot water over Chipsol for quick suds. Put the dishes in. You do little more than take them out and rinse, because Chipsol dissolves grease with amazing speed. And what sparkling glass and glistening china!

Suds in a second—make fun of dishwashing!

COUZENS' TAX PLEA ANSWERED BY MELLON AID

Solicitor Gregg Defends
Reopening of Case.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 9.—[Special]—Reopening of the tax case of Senator James J. Couzens [Rep., Mich.] and the assessment against him of a deficiency in his tax amounting to $3,455,303 in connection with his stock in the Ford Motor company in 1919 are defended in the court of appeals filed with the board of tax appeals today by A. W. Gregg, solicitor of internal revenue.

In reply to the argument of the Ford Motor company in 1919 are defended in the court of appeals filed with the board of tax appeals today by A. W. Gregg, solicitor of internal revenue.

JAMES COUZENS
[U.S. Sen. Photo.] The answer is in reply to the allegations made by Senator Couzens in his appeal from the determination of the internal revenue bureau.

Mr. Gregg sets forth the legal points on which the treasury justifies its action in reopening the case and overturning a ruling by former Commissioner of Internal Revenue Daniel C. Roper, who determined in advance of the sale of the Ford stock that its value as of March 1, 1919, should be considered to be $3,455,303 per share.

Senator Couzens sold 2,149 shares to Edsel Ford for $12,444.43 a share, a total of $29,305.85, and on the basis of the Roper valuation reported a profit of $3,955.00 per share over the 1919 value, or a total taxable profit of $8,222.09. The treasury now contends that the 1919 value should have been fixed at $3,547.84, instead of $3,455.34 per share.

Mr. Gregg contends that "the exercise of the authority and duty of the commissioner of internal revenue neither was nor could be abridged or foreclosed by any act or determination of a predecessor in office nor by the action of any other official."

MRS. MALINSKY ADMITS SLAYING, GETS LIFE TERM

Flora, Ill., March 9.—[UPI]—Mrs. Elsie Bibb Malinsky, 45, has today pleaded guilty in Clay County Circuit Court to the murder of Mrs. Laura L. Malinsky, 53, former wife of her husband, Ernest L. Malinsky, 50, and was sentenced to life in Joliet prison.

Mrs. Malinsky said she gave the poison to the woman in a glass of water. She abandoned her husband, pleaded guilty in Clay County Circuit Court to the murder of Mrs. Malinsky, of all blame. State's Attorney Harold S. Williams said he was inclined to accept her story.

The piles of guilty were made after the grand jury had returned an indictment, accusing the couple of the murder. Laura Malinsky died Sept. 21 under mysterious circumstances. The body was exhumed Dec. 11 and a chemical analysis recently completed revealed poison.

In passing sentence on Mrs. Malinsky Circuit Judge Thomas M. Jett unswayed by the defense's contention that "If you were a man I would hang you," he said. He described the crime as "cowardly."

Mr. Malinsky called special attention to the recommendations calling for the appointment of assistant secretaries of air in the department of commerce, of the war department, and the navy department. Gen. Harbord concurred with Mr. Morrow in this

NEW NAME FOR CICERO AVENUE STRIKES A SNAG

Merchants on Cicero avenue have been busy recently painting signs and ordering stationery designating their thoroughfare as "Midwest avenue," the new name recently selected in a contest conducted by a committee of business men. But it was disclosed yesterday that the street has not been renamed and will not be without the approval of the city council, which must not be granted.

The proposal, sponsored by Ald. John S. Clark [30th] was discussed by the council committees on streets and alleys yesterday and final action was deferred for two weeks.

Ald. Joseph H. Smith [33d], leader of the opposition, presented letters from Postmaster General and small postmaster, denying that the present name of the street is often confused with the village of Cicero. This has been the chief argument for changing the name.

Builds Up Thin Sickly Children

Children that are weak, underweight, listless, pale, lack the energy to take a lively normal interest in play and sports, gain ruddy health and vigor by taking Coco Cod, the pure cod liver oil strength-builder that tastes like chocolate.

Coco Cod is a nutritive systemizer. To build up the system which is recognized as the most concentrated nourishment known is added the health-giving vitamins from yeast, eggs, lettuce and spinach. Coco Cod is flavored with pure coco, so that children with the most sensitive stomachs enjoy taking it.

Physicians everywhere recommend Coco Cod for its well-known value in the treatment of weakness in its various forms and because it is palatable. One physician writes: "Having given Coco Cod to a five-year-old patient suffering from malnutrition, three bottles showed surprising improvement. Children will take it because it is palatable."

Begin today—build up the children's health with Coco Cod so they will have a fair and equal chance for success in life. All druggists.

AIR SECRETARIES URGED IN THREE DEPARTMENTS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 9.—[UPI]—Gen. Charles E. Wright, W. M. Harbord, chairman of the President's aircraft board, and Gen. Harbord, military member of the board, appeared before the house military affairs committee today in a last minute effort to convince the committee that the recommendations made in their report should not be thrown into the discard.

Mr. Morrow called special attention to the recommendations calling for the appointment of assistant secretaries of air in the department of commerce, of the war department, and the navy department. Gen. Harbord concurred with Mr. Morrow in this recommendation and asserted that adoption of this plan would work out much better for the national defense than any plan calling for a department of national defense or a separate air corps.

While urging the development of military aviation, Mr. Morrow asserted that it was of the utmost importance that civilian aviation be fostered by the government.

The senate spent two hours considering the provisions of the annual army appropriations bill this afternoon and will probably finish it in time to pass it tomorrow. The senate bill calls for an appropriation of $545,153,482.16, an increase over the bill as it passed the house of $3,637,126.

No more morning rush!

When you add an extra bathroom

Bring! the alarm tinkles merrily and the morning rush for the bathroom is on. You dash out. Only to find the closed door. "Hurry up!" you shout to the hasty, early bather. "Hurry up!" sister cries to junior getting up. "Hurry up!" mother calls from the breakfast room.

It's this busiest half-hour of the day, full of long, drawn-out minutes of depressing waiting, that starts the day wrong for the whole family. Breakfast becomes a snatch-and-run affair. Everyone's irritated. You get to the office late. The children are tardy to school.

Give yourself and your family a sunny start on the day by adding just one more bathroom. It is an investment in convenience and comfort that as surely pays dividends in happiness and health as it increases the value of your property. Best of all, no big space is needed. An

A simple and effective plan for a complete bathroom with a shower enclosure, in a space six feet three by five feet three inches. Cabinet is Aqua-silic. The closet, used for its quiet operation, is the Sanico siphon jet, C 1062, of twice-fired vitreous china.

The shower is C 4375-B, with piping and mixing valve concealed in the wall. The Hermance laundry, C 650-P, of many white twice-fired vitreous china, is especially suitable for small bathrooms or for narrow spaces.

PLATING and enamel will give a lot of snap and sparkle to any kind of hardware on a car—in the salesroom.

But they won't keep snap and sparkle on every kind of hardware when the car begins to get the gaff on the road.

Rust is no respecter of plating or enamel. It attacks the metal underneath if that metal is corrodible.

Soon there are rust-spotted door and window handles, corroded rails and striker plates, rusty screws and fasteners—snap and sparkle of metal parts fading to a dinginess that gives a car a shabby look.

But when the hardware is solid BRASS or BRONZE it retains its good looks.

BRASS or BRONZE hardware takes a wide variety of fine finishes and holds them in hard service because it is rustproof.

McANDREW RIPS INTO COATH FOR TEXTBOOK SLAM

Says Trustee Is Guilty of Cheap Reasoning.

School Trustees J. Lewis Coath was charged with "cheap reasoning" by Supt. William McAndrew yesterday in a communication sent to the school administration committee in answer to charges that school principals were being intimidated to use a text book written by Joseph F. Connally, district superintendent in charge of junior high schools.

Mr. Coath was also called upon by the superintendent in his letter to name the publisher and principal who brought the information to the attention of the school trustee. According to Mr. Coath's charge, a school principal was alleged to have told a publisher he would be compelled to use a mathematics text book if a district superintendent "because he is in a position to scratch my back."

McAndrew Demands Showdown.

"The reflection cast upon your schoolmaster by Mr. Coath's public attack may be given the right to full access, otherwise members of this department are subject to any un-substantiated insult any board member may choose to offer," Mr. McAndrew wrote.

In reply to statements of Mr. Coath ridiculing some of the problems in the text book in controversy, the superintendent said:

"These questions are selected by Mr. Coath from an ordinary and usual lesson. To pull apart a lesson out of its context and attempt to show it to be absurd is almost universally recognized as cheap reasoning. I respectfully invite your committee to give it the scant consideration it deserves."

NO PROFIT FROM SCHOOLS HERE.
Supt. McAndrew asserted that it was to the advantage of the school system to have text books fitted to the capacities of pupils in different localities by local authors. In this instance, in accordance with the law, the author received no compensation from the use of the book in Chicago's schools, the superintendent stated.

FORMER POLICE OPERATOR SHOT; MAFIA BLAMED

Another Mafia attempt at murder this was the explanation accepted by police last night to account for the shooting and wounding of Thomas Cerone, 3109 West Washington boulevard, a former police telephone operator.

Cerone was found at Racine and Grand avenues by Dr. Anthony Forman, 57 West Chestnut street, who received him in his office until about 10 a.m. yesterday morning. The physician learned that Cerone had been shot in the leg and in the pelvic region, and after giving him first aid treatment took him to the West Chicago avenue police station.

Cerone asserted that he had been shot by an unidentified man who walked along the street. The police believe, however, that he was wounded in an automobile.

EX-CHAUFFEUR GIVES AFFIDAVIT AGAINST WRIGHT

Alleged Love Scenes with Olga Bared.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service)

Los Angeles, Cal., March 9.—(Special)—A deposition linking the name of Frank Lloyd Wright, Chicago architect, with that of Mme. Olga Milanoff, and describing alleged episodes in Wright's country home at Spring Green, Wis., was sworn to here today by Wright's chauffeur, William A. Koch. The deposition, taken by Attorney Otto Christensen, will be placed in evidence by Mrs. Miriam Wright in the divorce case to be tried at Baraboo, Wis.

Passages in Koch's deposition described unusual living conditions in the home, which was the successor to the famous "Love Bungalow" of Mamah Borthwick, which was burned. Koch told of an alleged attempt to buy the hotel register of Woodstock [Ill.] Inn "Lived Together, He Says."

In his deposition Koch told about how Wright and Mme. Milanoff lived together in the Spring Green house through 1925.

Koch testified that he had taken Wright, Mme. Milanoff, and the latter's little girl on auto trips when the child was with her mother during the summer school vacation.

Q.—During these drives did you see anything concerning Mr. Wright's treatment of Mme. Milanoff? A.—Yes; I frequently put his arm around her and was very amiable and loving.

Q.—What did you observe about their treatment of each other around the house? A.—I would see him walking over the hills with her with his arm around her and occasionally he would kiss her.

Drove Them to Hotel.

Q.—In 1925 did you ever drive Mr. Wright and Mrs. Milanoff up to the Garfield Park Arms hotel? A.—Yes;

Q.—Where was that hotel? A.—2368 West Paulina Avenue, Chicago.

Q.—How long did they remain at that hotel? A.—Ten days.

Koch's deposition stated that at no time during his employment with Wright in 1925 was Mrs. Wright with Wright at the Spring Green country home.

JUDGE ENGLISH'S TRIAL IS VOTED BY HOUSE BODY

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., March 9.—(Special)—By a vote of fifteen to six, the house committee on judiciary approved today a resolution recommending the impeachment of United States District Judge George W. English of the Eastern district of Illinois. The resolution was written a new, heroic chapter in the gold rush annals of the north.

The plane piloted by H. Parfitt, was one of two which crashed in a blinding snow storm in their dash to the new Red Lake gold fields Friday.

The two planes started out close together Friday, and made good progress until they ran into the blizzard a few miles from their destination. After crashing blindly for an hour and forty minutes, Pilot Parfitt decided to attempt a landing. He had to take a chance of missing the other plane, which, though close, was hidden by the driving snow.

Seventy-five feet above the earth, the pilot ran into a bay which was sheltered from the gale, and could pick a place to land without fear of his motor and seaplane. The machine took the snow thirty feet from shore and landed into the bushes fringing the lake, damaging it considerably.

A few seconds later the second plane, piloted by H. Waitz, crashed to the snow, in sight of the first machine.

Both planes were made from the Red lake camp of the Homestake Mining Company and the marooned airmen a short time later and brought them to the camp.

Charges against Judge English come under three general heads, corruption, judicial tyranny, and indecent conduct on the bench.

Resolved, That

George W. English, Judge of the District court of the Eastern district of Illinois, be impeached for high misdemains.

If this house approves impeachment

it will move the trial of Judge English before the senate. The votes of two-thirds of the members of the senate will be necessary to convict.

FLYERS IN GOLD RUSH CRASH IN BLIZZARD; SAFE

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

HUDSON, Ont., March 9.—Its propeller splintered, its wings patched in seventeen places, a lone airplane made its crippled descent here yesterday afternoon. And with its landing there was written a new, heroic chapter in the gold rush annals of the north.

The plane piloted by H. Parfitt, was one of two which crashed in a blinding snow storm in their dash to the new Red Lake gold fields Friday.

PROPOSES PIPING CITY WATER TO WEST SUBURBS

Extension of the city water supply system in two years to suburbs within the sanitary district west of Chicago can be carried out at an approximate cost of $5,000,000, according to the present Chicago meter rates.

port made yesterday to A. E. Spengler, commissioner of public works, by City Engineer John Krippe. The proposal probably will be taken up at an early meeting of the city council.

All that is required is the extension, the report said, is construction of a high pressure main in Harrison avenue. This would carry enough water to supply 400,000 persons at the present Chicago meter rates.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the teeth is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

These pleasant little tablets do the work of calomel but have no after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquid or calomel. They take hold of the teeth and remove the tartar to cure the liver at the expense of the teeth! Calomel so sometimes may have with the teeth.

We sincerely advise it to take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. They take its place.

Health and beauty—these are the results coming from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "tired" and "heavy." They will clean out the liver and "weld up" the spirit. Use and see.

U. S. CLERGYMEN DEMAND TEST OF RIGHTS IN CHINA

TAX TO MEET FARM LOSSES SUGGESTED
BY E. T. MEREDITH

BY JOHN POWELL.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
SHANGHAI, March 9.—American military interests in China are attempting to force a showdown with the Chinese government over the subject of Christian instruction in mission colleges and the universities. This was indicated today by a statement of the China Christian Educational association that an attempt is now being made to register Christian schools with the government bureau of education.
The government is not against religious instruction, but on the condition that religious instruction be non-compulsory.
The government also threatens to make Chinese graduates from non-registered mission schools ineligible for government positions.

Refuse Chinese Demand.

The American missionaries desire to comply with the registration edict, but refuse to forgo the compulsory religious instruction, since this is the principal purpose of the schools, and the basis upon which funds are obtained from America.

The secretary of the mission told
THE TRIBUNE correspondent today that an attempt was being made to register a dozen schools in Chekiang province as a test case. The missionaries say the Chinese constitution guarantees religious liberty, but that this condition is now held in abeyance.

Feng Defies Powers.

PEKING, March 9.—(U.P.)—Peking today put off from mail and freight communications with the outside because of the battle around the Taku forts, near Tientsin, where the Kuomintang troops of Marshal Feng Yuhsiang and a force representing the government of Marshal Chang Tsao-lin, Wu Peifu, and Li Ching-ling are hotly engaged.

Marshal Feng, who controls the Peking area, boldly defied the Boxer protocol by notifying pilots that no vessels would be permitted to sail up the Pen River past the forts, thus closing the last outside mail and freight connections with Peking and Tientsin.
The forts fired on pilot vessels before notification of the new order.
The river has been mined by Feng's forces to keep out ships.

The diplomatic corps is expected to protest against the isolation of Peking and also against the arming of the forts, both of which are contrary to the Boxer protocol.

SLAYER DENIED NEW TRIAL.
Galena, Ill., March 9.—(Special)—Frank Bell, convicted of manslaughter after he killed his son in the Bell house here, was given an indefinite sentence in the penitentiary today after a motion for a new trial had been overruled.

COUNCIL VOTE ON TILE TODAY
TO BE WATCHED

Washington, D. C., March 9.—[Special.]—E. T. Meredith, secretary of agriculture during the latter portion of the Wilson administration, urged government price-fixing as the only practical solution of the agricultural problem, in his speech before the house agriculture committee today. The problem, he said, is one of preventing crop surpluses rather than one of disposing of them after they appear.

Disposing of the Dickinson bill and modifications of that scheme submitted by delegates of the recent corn belt conferences in Des Moines and Chicago as "ineffective," Mr. Meredith outlined his own program which contemplates the creation of a federal price-fixing commission to fix prices on all major crops and levy an assessment fee on them to be funded as an "agricultural guaranty fund."
The "guaranty fund," under the Meridith proposal, would be raised by a tax of one-half of one per cent on the value of the wheat, corn, cotton, wool, butter, and sugar crops, and would be used to meet farmers' losses in market any one of the contributing crops.

minute appearance of Julius Plotz, an engineer in private practice, who has been charged with making an unauthorized change in the final draft of the majority ordinance.

May Write About Action.

Mr. Plotz was asked yesterday for a statement concerning his part in the ordinance.

"If I have any statement it will be in writing," he said. "I may have one tomorrow."

William Artingstall, engineer for the department of public works, who represented the administration in the city council will keep their pencils busy today if the scheduled action is taken on the hollow tile ordinance.

Ald. William R. O'Toole [14th], chairman of the committee on buildings and zoning, is expected to call up the ordinance approved by a majority of the committee and Ald. A. J. Horan [1st] will move the adoption of a minority report ordinance as a substitute.

Minority Fellow, Hoover Board.

The minority ordinance conforms with the standards set by the Hoover commission, a corps of experts whose purpose was to encourage safe, economical building. The majority ordinance does not allow the more general use of tile as urged by that commission, as continuing the present monopoly of the brick industry would permit the construction of buildings that would be structurally unsafe.

Much of the public interest in today's situation is due not only to the technical controversy over the comparative merits of brick and tile, but also to several mysterious elements that have come into it. One of these is the unprecedented activity of a few aldermen in connection with a matter not involved in their committee assignments. Another is the last one respect, which is even more conservative than that code. He holds that it will be of benefit to builders and that the majority ordinance will do no good, but considerable harm.

The Language of Squeaks

A LITTLE squeak here—another squeak there. The motor is talking to you. It is serious language if you only understand it.
What's the matter? It needs oil.

Oil is an important matter. It serves two most necessary purposes in every car—it prevents wear between the fast moving parts of the engine, it seals compression, preventing the escape of power.

An inferior oil, or an oil not perfectly adapted to your engine cannot perform these services effectively. It becomes old and dirty—with grave results.

Oil is vital to the engine. If the engine is forced to circulate an old, dirty oil, laden with particles of abrasive grit, it gives righteous squeaks of protest.

Dirt oil does not make a good piston seal and
the power generated by the engine escapes.
When the oil is old and dirty, moving surfaces are no longer protected, metal rubs against metal, and friction begins to eat away
the vital parts of the motor itself. Then squeak, squeak, says the engine ominously.

When this happens, heed the warning! Go to a Standard Oil Service Station or Authorized Garage. Consult the chart prepared by the Standard Oil staff of lubricating engineers.
They have diagnosed accurately the oil needs of your individual car.

Have the old, dirty oil drained out of the crank-case, cleanse your motor thoroughly—with Polarine Flushing Oil, and have the correct grade of Polarine put in. Then, you will sense the joy of a motor in perfect condition, flexible, responding instantly to the slightest touch because friction has been removed by Polarine and all the potential power of the engine is ready in reserve.

For thin, run-down people

Your underweight condition shows lack of proper nourishment and vitality. What you need is COCO COD to build up your system in a healthful, natural way—to add good, firm flesh—to give you the strength and health you ought to have.
COCO COD is pure cod liver oil, flavored with chocolate to make it pleasant to take. Vitamins from yeast, eggs, lettuce and spinach further increase its strength-building qualities.

Convalescents, nursing mothers, elderly people, children with rickets, all find COCO COD the quick and effective strength-builder they need. Recommended by physicians everywhere. Ask your doctor. All druggists. Begin today—take COCO COD for health!

Dr. Herbert L. Thornburgh says:
"I have a marked preference for COCO COD."

for Answers... Read Details!

Tune in tonight on W-G-N—The Chicago Tribune Radio Station on the Drake Hotel—and listen to these old time melodies.

The Chicago Tribune is paying $100.00 a day to those who name the three "Old Time Favorites" broadcast from W-G-N every evening, and who tell in a single sentence which of the three songs like best.

Set your dials at 302.8 meters, enjoy this wonderful entertainment and try to name these songs tonight! Five prizes are offered each day for best answers.

Five prize winners every day!

All you have to do is to listen to the three Old Time Songs broadcast every evening from W-G-N, The Chicago Tribune Radio Station on the Drake Hotel—name the three songs and tell in a single sentence which you like best, and why.

Prizes are being paid as follows: First Prize, $50.00; Second Prize, $25.00; Third and Fourth Prizes, $10.00 each; Fifth Prize $5.00. $100.00 is being paid every day and Sunday (except Monday, silent night).

Winners are named daily.

The winners are named on the Radio Page of The Tribune daily and Sunday. Be sure to listen in tonight and see if you remember the three old time tunes. Just name them and send your answer to "Old Time Favorites," The Chicago Tribune.

Three old melodies are broadcast every evening at 6:45 P.M. and at 10:10 P.M., except Monday (silent night for Chicago stations.)

Watch the Radio Page in The Chicago Tribune every day for names of winners. Upon seeing your name published, write to "Old Time Favorites," Tribune Tower, Chicago, Ill., and you will receive your award.

Tune in on W-G-N tonight

Only One Cloud in Elmer's Day of Radio Joy

Makes a Criticism of Over-Advertising.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

The joy of living was increased last night, but there was one little dark cloud. WHT at 7 broadcast a superb vocal quartet in a fine program, but the effect was spoiled by artless advertising. The ear of the nervous dial twister may be caught by an advertising campaign, but it drives away the radio concert listener.

A new musical feature, WLS, till now the "Etude" musical hour on the third Tuesday of each month, James Francis Cooke, editor of the "Etude" musical magazine, was the speaker. Hereafter this feature will be conducted by D. A. Clippinger, the Chicago vocal instructor.

I am sure I am not the only one who has been wishing this WIP, Philadelphia, feature would be presented in Chicago. Anyhow, we now have it.

Following this program, there was a brief song recital by Howard McLane, a Northern Pacific railroad fireman, whose fine timbered tenor voice gave no evidence of his occupation. This voice was discovered at WCCO, St. Paul-Minneapolis.

It had not been for the Melody mixed quartet on the KWW program the 8 o'clock hour could be passed with without mention. Great singers, these are in solo work, and for variety of expression with few peers in ensemble. Eugene Gordon, violinist; W-G-N appeared in the last of his first series of recitals. Glad to hear that this is only the "first." In spite of this being a dangerous request program, it turned out to be a high class, snappy, enjoyable affair.

It was rather a surprise to hear the opening selection as a request, "Variations on a Theme by Correlli" ("Tartini-Kreisler"). Congratulations for the request!

Kreisler's "Caprice Viennensis" received the largest number of requests. For pure beauty, brilliancy and complex tonal content its popularity is merited when played by Mr. Gordon.

The "Old Time Favorites" program, WHE, 9 to 10, was just about their best ever. It was one continuous flow of sprightly, brilliant numbers by soloists; the Uptown theater ensemble (six pieces), mixed vocal quartet, and 50 piece theater orchestra.

DICK HOWELL'S EXPULSION AT
N. U. WILL STAND

So far as the faculty of Northwestern University is concerned, the recent expulsion of Richard Howell, captain of the Purple swimming team, because of his marriage to Elizabeth Anne Fletcher, a co-ed, is a closed incident.

Dean R. A. Kent of the college of liberal arts and sciences after a faceted meeting has sight that the name of Howell has brought up, only in a formal way. "A report was read stating that Howell and Miss Fletcher had violated a university rule by getting married," he stated. "There was no comment. The matter is ended."

Today's Winners
in "Old Time Favorite" Radio Contest

Adriana De Graff, 1471 Main street, Harvey, Ill., wins today's first prize of $100 in the Old Time Favorites contest conducted by W-G-N. The CHICAGO TRIBUNE radio station on the Drake hotel. The songs played last Wednesday are "Kathleen Mavourneen," "Jingle Bells," and "O Sole Mio." Miss De Graff's winning sentence was: "Old Time Favorites is the best show, for it makes up pleasant memories of a laguna, lighted with orange-colored lanterns, of gondolas swaying lightly near the boat, and of gayly-dressed stages whose charming music was wafted over the ripples of Venetian canals."

The second prize of $25 is awarded to Lester M. Newman, 1143 Prairie boulevard.

The third prize of $10 is won by Alice E. Gauntt, 9397 Parnell avenue. The fourth prize of $10 goes to Dorothy N. Whitcomb, 1629 Catalpa avenue.

The fifth prize of $5 is awarded to William Randolph Seidenschick, Hinsdale, Ill.

All five winners may receive their awards by calling or writing to "Old Time Favorites," Tribune tower, Chicago, before midnight at 6:45 and at 10:10 o'clock three songs of the day gone by are presented over W-G-N. To become eligible for the prizes listeners must name the songs correctly and tell in a single sentence which one they like best and why. Letters must be received at the Tribune not later than four days after the songs are played.

GOLFERS TO FIND NORTHWESTERN LINKS IMPROVED

New Yardage and New Par Among Features.

BY MORROW KRUM.

A new arrangement of holes, a new par, and a new and better brand of golf will await the golfer when the Northwesterners open up the forested grounds for play. Details were explained yesterday by Charles F. Speed of Evanson, who is the father of the Northwestern course.

The yardage last year was just half way between 6,100 and 6,200 yards. The new is 74, but this was not a difficult figure for the scratch golfer to achieve.

The new length will be 6,400 yards and par will be 72, and it will take mighty good golf to make par.

Change the Course.

The location between holes at Northwestern have been changed. The first hole will be the same, the second has been lengthened, and the third made into a long dogleg. The sixth hole will be a short hole, a pitch of 150 yards. The seventh has been lengthened into a hard dogleg par 6 hole and the ninth has been lengthened into a hard dogleg par 5 hole. On the incoming nine, the tenth, eleventh and twelfth holes will remain as they were last year. The thirteenth has been lengthened into a dogleg par 5. The fourteenth will not be changed.

Then will come the fifteenth and it will be one of the best on the course. This will be a par 5 hole, and the tee will be well placed. The hole crosses the river 225 yards from the tee, and few are the golfers whose drives will carry that river from the tee. The second shot, then, will take the air across the water and it will, of course, have to be accurate with the mashie or mashie niblick.

Shows Good Profit.

The sixteenth will be a 135 yard pitch shot with a bowl green and the seventeenth will be a dogleg that will take the golfer to the eighteenth tee and thence by fairway to the clubhouse.

Five old holes, some that were used last year, will be used as the start of a new nine hole course to relieve the congestion on the eighteen hole course. Speed asserted that the Northwestern course took in enough money last year to show excess receipts over cost of $12,000.

NEW TRIER CAGE TEAM GETS BID TO MAROON MEET

New Trier High school cagers, champions of the Suburban league, were among the first four teams invited to the national interscholastic tournament which will be held at the University of Chicago, March 30 to April 3. The other three teams invited were sent by H. O. Crater, graduate manager of the meet, yesterday are Charleston, S. C.; Breckinridge High, San Antonio, Tex., and Duval High, Jacksonville, Fla. All of these are state champions. Baker, Ark., High, is given its state championship and will be extended an invitation to compete in the national classic. Crater has assurances that all of these quints will compete.

LOYOLA TO ADD 800 SEATS FOR PREP TOURNEY

Eight hundred seats have been added to the capacity of Loyola university gymnasium to handle the crowd that will attend the 10th Catholic interscholastic basketball tourney, March 18 to 21. The announcement was made yesterday by Ed Krupka, secretary of the tournament.

Loyola's gymnasium at present seats approximately 3,000. Last season attendance at the tourney exceeded 35,000. It is planned to handle 55,000 people this season.

Invitations have been sent out to 35 teams to date and the remaining 18 will go out in a few days.

Fresh Miler Shows Most Speed in Maroon Games

Dick Williams, freshman miler at the University of Chicago, turned in the best time in the Maroon Invitational cup race at the Artistic yesterday, running clocked in his specialty in 4:29 to lead the fresh to the title. ## HIGHWAY SAFETY chiefs To Meet IN WASHINGTON

BY J. L. JENKINS.

Motorists of Chicago and Cook county will be well represented at the second annual conference on street and highway safety to be convened in Washington on March 24, 25 and 26, under the direction of Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover.

Gen. Walter W. MacMechan, chairman of the committee on uniformity of laws and regulations, will preside. A detailed report covering all phases of safety traffic legislation will be considered by the conference and ultimate recommendations will be made for a masterly uniform vehicle code to be used as a model for safety legislation. Other topics to be considered are for the registration of automobiles and their certificates of title; a uniform act for the licensing of drivers; a uniform act for the inspection of vehicles; and a uniform act for the regulation of trucking.

The Cook county police commission has submitted a resolution to all cities and villages in Cook county that the highway department urging that the Hoover conference finders concerning uniform direction and warning signs and markings be allowed to the letter and that all except the approved uniform signs and warnings be removed from the highways.

Five Chicago men will make up the city delegation. Mayor Thompson, Mayor Davis has appointed Sheldon Clark, former commander of the Chicago Yacht club, as head of the delegation. Other members of the committee will be Elmer T. Smith, George W. Dorsey, Ald. Edward B. Bowler, chairman of the safety commission, and Emil C. Wetstein.

Sportsmen Ask for Bird Hotels, Hunting Areas

BY BOB BECKER.

American sportmen are asking Uncle Sam to establish a series of bird hotels suitable for waterfowl and at the same time provide areas where tree fender hunters may have sites available for some bird shooting. For several years our rich uncle has been besieged to make this sort of move by enacting a bill called the bird shooting-ground public refuge measure, but he has sidestepped the job.

Every sportman in America should be interested and working for the passage of this migration bird refuge and marsh land conservation measure. It is one of the most pressing conservation measures ever placed before the nation, as it is the right thing to do for the poor birds who are disappearing in this country. The poor birds will soon be forced to roost in trees unless something is done for them.

The proposed bill aims to provide funds for the creation of bird refuges and marsh lands for the protection of migratory birds. Five nationally known, reputable conservation organizations are behind the measure. Seven outdoor fan should be helping them get the bill through congress 2:16.

Miss Bauer Unable to Compete.

Brainerd won his event handily in 2:54:25 without serious opposition. Leo Miller of Covenant club and Louis Katz, Hirsh center, were second and third.

Miss Sibyl Bauer of the Illinois Athletic Club, women's champion in the women's 150 yard back stroke, was ill last night, being unable to compete against Miss Homer. Miss Anne Gerber of the I. A. C. was second and Miss Peggy Williamson of Milwaukee was third in the swim.

Albert Schwartz of Marshall High, won the high school boys' pentathlon, finishing in the 40 yard free style, back stroke, breast stroke, and the 100 yard free style. Lyle Cobath of Lane was second with first in the fancy diving and placing in all other events. Mark Wickes of Senn was third.

Howell Given Exhibition.

Miss Homer, besides taking the 150 yard championship, won the 100 yard open even for men and the 100 yard 1500 free. Ralph Breyer of Peoria, Ill. was second in the 100 yard open of the C. A. A. won the 220 yard open free style event for men in 2:26 4:5. Dick Howell, also of the Cherry Circle, swam an exhibition century in .56 1:5.

TONE IN WHEAT MARKET HEAVY; CORN ADVANCES

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Wheat market showed a heavy underline the greater part of the day, May breaking 5¢ per bushel after selling at $1.85¢ early, but the market was on a strong rally due to short covering in evening up for the government report on farm reserves due after the close. There were no gains of 5¢ to 6¢ with May at $1.85¢ @ 61.25¢, July at $1.85¢ @ 61.25¢, and September at $1.85¢ to $1.86¢. Corn gained 4¢ to 5¢ with May 77¢ to 78¢ and July 8¢. Oats were 4¢ higher to 4¢ lower with May at $1.25¢ to $1.26¢ and July 8¢. Soybeans advanced with May 25¢ to 26¢ and July 26¢.

Local wheat bulls expected the government estimate to show small reserves on farms and bought early, but the market came as soon as the buying stopped and the market went into a downward trend on the selling side, finding support lacking until May touched $1.85¢. At that figure short covering absorbed the effects.

Official Demand Lacking.

While the total holdings of wheat in all positions are unusually small the price of American grain is materially above an export basis and taken as a whole the trade is not the report as stabilizing the domestic market. There were no export sales of consequence at the seaboard either of durums or Manitous, although the continent showed more interest and asked for offers. Liverpool closed $0.014¢ lower, ending the month at 15.60¢ per bushel, while Buenos Aires declined unchanged with March $1.21¢ and May $1.27¢. Japan has practically doubled the import duty on wheat, the change going into effect on April 1.

Market Figures on Corn.

Corn prices held within a range of 4¢ to 5¢ with trade almost entirely of a local report. The government estimate of 1,819,000,000 bu on farm reserves was conservative as being only 15,000,000 bu over the average of the previous reserves and compared with 755,000,000 bu last year. Cash corn basis was unchanged to 1¢ higher. Oats had a range of 4¢, resting orders to sell May checking an earlier upturn at that figure. Shorts bought rye on breaks while checked the decline in the finish with firmer in sympathy with wheat. No export demand was reported at the seaboard.

Wheats at Buenos Aires closed 1¢ higher with March $1.49¢ and May at $1.58¢ per bushel.

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

The government report on farm reserves was considered bearish on all counts. The big winter wheat states have 40,975,000 bu, compared with 60,350,000 bu last year. In the case of oats, the reserves are 23,240,000 bu, compared with 25,752,000 bu a year ago. North Dakota had 10,637,000 bu, against 21,300,000 bu last year.

In the nine leading corn states there were 976,810,000 bu on the farms, or $90,190,000 bu in excess of last year.

A significant feature in the corn situation was the holding in Iowa of 225,653,000 bu while last year there were only 97,778,000 bu. Illinois had 200,000,000 bu, while 1925 had 440,000,000 bu for the two states, more than double last year's supply. Ohio and Indiana had 200,000,000 bu, against only 200,000,000 bu in 1925. The new government report comes out and has been 50,000,000 bu less than the eastern trade for the last four months, with indications that they will have surplus again to sell for a number of six weeks more.

Taking the farm reserves of wheat by states, 80,000,000 bu, there were 8,000,000 bu above the average of the previous three years and 10,000,000 bu below. There were traders who construed the report as wheat as bullish, noting that eliminating the eastern trade for the last four months, they required only 35,000,000 bu of wheat, which was 10¢ higher with March $1.49¢ and May at $1.58¢ per bushel.

Directors of the Chicago Board of Trade have decided on a modification of the recent order governing the circulation of oil contracts. That ruling will be passed today.

CHICAGOSEES BASIS OF
OF NICKEL PLATE

BY HARPER LEECH.

There may be materials for a corking good drama of business in the Nickel Plate case. Consider the role of Prof. William Z. Ripley. Called upon by the interstate commerce commission to work out a tentative plan for railway consolidation, he went to it with infinite labor and backed by expert knowledge produced a balanced plan—but opening railroad executives didn't care for many of its features.

Mergers proceeded. The Nickel Plate scheme cut athwart the professor's theory of trunk line realignment. It looked as if it were going over. Prof. Ripley in the meantime investigated and sounds the alarm. He sees new tendency in corporate finance, the separation of ownership and control—the sale of securities divested of voting power. Agree with him or not—and this writer does not think his objections are anything but theoretical, or that the new modes of finance do anything more than recognize facts already existing in corporate management—it nevertheless interposes coincidence that the disappearance of Prof. Ripley's alarms came at a time when it did not boost the Nickel Plate proposition. That question was wrapped up in the merger—the matter of control without majority ownership. Such a chain of coincidence in the hands of a good playwright would make a real show.

Now for another view of the question of corporate control. I. K. Russell sees the Ripley theory that "corporations ought to sell the right to fire the management with their securities." He visions mob rule in industry. Now Russell has got his man, and it is not a bad mob psychology. He cites this picturesque incident in support of his thesis: "I knew a newspaper in New York owned by socialist doctrinaires, the Call. I attended a dinner one night at which were a majority of its stockholder's committee. All were in a hurry to rush down to the paper and fire its editor and managing editor. They gave splendid reasons for their proposed action. To me they looked just like a pack of wolves off on a rabbit hunt. They fired them, too. The Call, you know, is no more. They will say the capitalists killed it, but I won't."

A noted biologist says of the Ripley theory that democracy cannot expect to dominate its leaders, who must make technical decisions, and expect to survive. Prof. Compton has recently pointed out that capitalism has survived and belied all the predictions of its doom, because it has selected its leaders in competitive combat. Prof. James Mayor of the University of Michigan analyzed the failures of cooperatives throughout the world, reaches the conclusion that they have failed because the workers have proved incapable of choosing their own bosses.

Universal Theaters Has Big Readjustment Loss

The annual report of the Universal Theaters Concession company throws additional light on the collapse of the business during the depression. In 1925 to 5 since last spring. Following a change in management last June, assets were drastically written down. As a result, the report for 1925 shows a net loss of $281,338 and a deficit of $25,335, whereas the report of the former management for 1924 set forth net profit of $82,866 and a surplus of $305,486.

The report of the new management for 1925 shows an increase of 1,000,000 in the effect of scaling down assets. Current assets are $13,108, a decrease of $822,908; fixed assets of $153,649, decrease of $31,700; other assets, $9,915, increase $2,000; current liabilities, $126,464; decrease, $96,855; total assets, $476,672; decrease, $842,310.

COTTON DELIVERIES LARGER

Cotton delivery notices for tenders on March contracts were issued, three being on March 10, 1926, and two on March 20, so far this month. At New York there were 5,000 bales. These were well taken and the market price closed at 18.60c per lb. at 10.00c per lb. at New York and 18.00c at New Orleans. There were no notices out of New Orleans. The market was quiet and cotton and nearby futures were strong and closed 10.00c per lb. higher. In New Orleans were 4,000 bales. Liverpool was stronger and closed 2.67 points higher. Bremen, Hamburg and Berlin and local traders.

Weather was favorable and caused reported the Manchester market to open again at 11.00c per lb. and close at 11.00c per lb.

WALL STREET NOTES

NEW YORK, March 9.—(AP)—Prices in today's curb market pointed upward. Vacuum Oil crossed 100 for a net gain of more than 2 points and Standard Oil of Kentucky, Gulf, and Western advanced a point or so. Esso, Standard Refining, Goodyear, Firestone, Purity Baking R. St. Regis Paper, and Southern Dairies all closed at or above 100. United Light and Power was 1% lower at 77% and a slightly smaller loss was 1% for 2 points. The market was quiet at 60.

Selling pressure was felt from the bond market, but prices made little headway in recovering from the recent reaction. A market in French obligations for 1926 was announced that a new friend cabinet probably would be formed to succeed the one which fell last week. Gains of 100-200 points were generally registered this day with the government 7s and 7s offering a good demand of strength.

Railroad bonds remained their upward movement after the leadership of Detroit and New Haven. The market was quiet for more than 3 points. Chesapeake and Ohio convertible as fluctuated within a two point margin. Most of the Erie bonds were higher. Freight cars were offered by the car companies including Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe, New York Central, Frisco, Southern Pacific, and New Haven issues. Edgars Brown Irons 7s rallied almost 4 points.

The Adopted Wife

By Amelie Rives
(Trishen Troubles)

Ollie Gibbs is left an orphan by the death of her father, who bequeaths her to the care and charity of Hilary Fraser, one of his few friends. Hilary's sister, Laura Fraser, takes her into her home to live. Two years later Laura dies and Hilary is again forced to turn to the care of Ollie. A young Russian sculptor proposes to her, but she declines him, and Hilary, in desperation, proposes to herself in order to do away with her house and Hilary. Ollie is happy in the arrangement until she learns some gossip about herself and her "white marriage." She learns for the first time that her father had left her penniless.

INSTALLMENT XV.

CHICAGO CALLS ON A THEATRICAL AGENT.

At first Celia thought she would wear a plain, dark green walking suit. Then she decided that Mr. Abel Sieburg would be apt to be impressed by expensive and unusual finery, so she selected a gown of black Chinese brocade studded with rhinestones. It was made with a long train, buttoned down the front with large, rhinestone covered buttons, and had a full, high collar of rhinestones with white fur. When she had set a little skull cap of black satin atop also with rhinestones above the great lump of her twisted hair she looked rather like an unusually tall Pierrot. After a considering glance at herself in a pair glasses she put on a chain of black opals, irregularly shaped and strong oriental fashion on a gold cord.

The morning was windy and bitter cold, and as she intended to walk, she searched in her closet of furs for her most impressive coat. While she took it down she smiled again, this time showing her teeth, which were almost as small and even as a puppy's.

The coat was of silver fox, a gift from Hilary at Christmas. She had never seen another like it, and she smiled thus unusually because it struck her that Mr. Abel Sieburg would surely be épaté, and that it was from Mrs. Hilary Fraser should wish to épater him.

She stepped from the lift that carried her to the Sieburg offices and, following some people who had come up with her along a crooked hallway, found herself in front of a sort of railed-in pen. This was full of more people, evidently waiting on the leisure of the powerful Abel. Beyond this pen to the left a ground glass door, was ornamented with his full name in square black letters. Underneath it were two more words—"Private Office."

Celia declined to enter the pen of the patient ones, who looked, some of them, as weary as if they had been waiting there since dawn. Throwing open the door, the air was intensely hot as well as close smelling, she glanced up in her tranquil, oblique way to see if there were any one to whom she might give her card and message. The weary women in the pen were already smiling one another and gaping at her wondrous coat.

"THE MRS. HILARY FRASER?" inquired he.

As she did her glance slowly about she noticed a keen looking boy peering nonchalantly against the opposite wall and also gaping at her.

She walked straight over to him.

"Would you be so kind as to take this in to Mr. Abel Sieburg for me? If he will see me . . . at once, please?"

And she smiled at him.

"Sure," said the youth promptly. He fared something important.

"What name?"

"It's inside," said Celia, handing him her card, which she had put into a small envelope and addressed to Mr. Abel Sieburg.

The boy took it. His red lips stretched straight in a slyly humorous grin.

"I guess it's some name," he observed. "I guess Mr. Abel will see you, too, P.D.Q." He strolled forward, whisked open the office door, and whisked through, closing it.

No one was in but the great Abe himself. And for so big a personage he was very small—indeed—in more ways than one. Seated at his battered desk, he was going through pages and pages of closely written figures, with a pen in his hand, reaching for a ruler to rule off a column of figures.

"I'll get you to guide him on his way, and as the boy enjoys his name, I'll name 'Thirty-eight cents' for him," damn' em! On being interrupted he added the name in the paper before him, and, without looking up, said:

"Get out. No one to come in till ten past ten."

"This ain't no one, it's some one with a big S," returned the boy coolly. "You know I know, Mr. Abe."

The great man hissed like a Japanese, drawing in his breath.

"You know too much, sonny. Some day you'll know that, too. . . . When I kick you out for raw cheek. Who is it?"

Zeb, who always hated Zeb and who upon hearing of the million and the terms upon which it had been left, offers a cool five million if Polly will receive only thirty dollars a week to live on. The remainder must be invested.

Obviously the poor girl is about to be chased from her boarding place when Mr. Barrington from Boston enters the picture. Mr. Barrington is the attorney for her late Uncle Zeb and uncle has left her a cool million.

"AH—clothes, jewels, parties, limousines, yachts—everyting," shrieks the highly maladroit leading to the picture, "and as the boy enjoys his name, I'll name 'Thirty-eight cents' for him," damn' em!

On being interrupted he added the name in the paper before him, and, without looking up, said:

"Get out. No one to come in till ten past ten."

"You know I know, Mr. Abe."

The great man hissed like a Japanese, drawing in his breath.

For the first time in his life, Celia was almost afraid of him. He tried in pronouncing his name, "Barrington," and, when he did, he stopped him, and, without looking up, said:

"Show her in."

"Little Celia right again, hey?" chuckled the irrepressible youth as he whisked the door open to fetch Celia into the presence. Like Pilate, he did not wait for an answer, which, however, reached the door just as he closed it in the shape of a brass handled blotter held by Mr. Abe with sure aim but in such a manner that it missed him entirely.

He was so shocked that he dropped the blotter, and, as he did, he heard a sharp snap. The blotter had almost tripped over it, and Jaka, standing in front of it, Celia, as she entered, almost tripped over it, and Jaka, holding it in the desk before leaving, remarked as he did so that "he would have to get him a tin hat!"

Mr. Abe, who had some of the ways of an oriental monarch, did not rise to meet Celia, and she composedly drew a chair in front of his desk and sat down facing him.

"The Mrs. Hilary Fraser?" inquired he.

"Yes," said Celia. "I've come to you."

He was thinking rapidly now. If his husband should prove an easy target—he was rich enough—he might work her and Mimi into some stout together. They were both as tall and thin as stepples.

but this woman danced well, the society columnists said, and Mimi could do with acrobatics; also Fraser was rich as separator cream. (Mr. Abe was born in Connecticut, of which he was almost as proud as of the Sieburg estate.)

He was as épaté as Celia could have desired. He thought her appearance was one that might turn into a "howling success" if only he could sit her in his chair and the husband would come down with the coin.

A relation of Mr. Abe Sieburg, a dentist, had extracted the numerous gold fillings from his mother's teeth after death and made his wedding ring of them.

The smile had always seemed to Mr. Abe a model of combined beauty and shrewdness.

He was glad that he was named for him and strove to resemble him in every way.

It was said that he had a very good figure, and Celia, on her side, though she only glistened at him now and then, was drawing him carefully. He had long, pointed ears, and his fury, black hair, which had that bulge to the heavy eyebrows. These eyes were quickly gliding and furrowing in their movements, lashed eyes as if he must drop olive oil into them every morning to facilitate it, seemed as if he must drop olive oil into them every morning to facilitate it.

Yet he was good looking in a way, his curved nose not too large, his curved lips not too thick, and hooked over polished nails dented so deep at the pale pink.

"Want to go on the stage?" he repeated, as she did not answer at once.

Good morning.

Well—it's nutty—but it's nice!

We who went to McVicker's yesterday had some good laughs over "Miss Brewster's Millions," which is a sort of educated Mack Sennett comedy—though Mack Sennett had nothing to do with it. [That I know of.]

For its story the producers dipped into the novel by George Barr McCutcheon and the play by Winchell Smith.

The result is something utterly ridiculous and exceedingly good fun, with Bebe Daniels doing a combination Mabel Normand-Douglas Fairbanks that is decidedly the slapstick berries.

FARM AND GARDEN

If fat globules in milk were pennies dairymen would realize how many dollars roll down the skin milk spent of the cream separator and go into the pigs trough every year when milk is allowed to stand and cool down to a temperature of 60 degrees or less before it is separated. There probably isn't one dairy farm in the country where there is separation of whole milk more than 2 per cent of the butterfat may be lost in the skim milk when the separation is done at low temperature.

P. M. Tracy's test at the agricultural college, Urbana, Ill., showed that cold cream sealed the discs on the separator so that milk was not separated. He made a sample of three pound batches of 4 per cent milk through a separator—one at 55 and the other at 60 degrees Fahrenheit. The lot which was separated at 85 degrees yielded 6 pounds of cream testing 19.3 per cent butterfat, while the skim milk from the lot contained three degrees more fat, 6.5 per cent cream, but it tested only 6.5 per cent butterfat. The skim milk from this lot contained 2.2 per cent butterfat.

Tracy says: "Milk should be run through the separator as soon after

IN NEED
JOY BROWN,
in a Sanitarium,
in the hours go by slowly.
The kind readers had a want it would fill in
M. O. O.
certainly a boon her misfortune. If of discarding your name, remember her and she will be glad to help you.

Loud Speaker,
I should like
one who wants it.
"Mrs. G."
My family could get the benefit
if you had a loud speaker and using earphones, to forward your ad-

book my head and hurt
to have her take it.
In a high pitched and
"O, no, I can't take it;
it's too bad." I meekly suppressed giggles.

DEXTER FAIRBANK
DIES FOLLOWING WEEK'S ILLNESS

Dexter Fairbank, 49 years old, son of the late Nathaniel K. Fairbank, Chicago capitalist, packer, and soap manufacturer, died yesterday at his home, 3020 Pine Grove avenue, after a week's illness of pneumonia. He is survived by his widow, who was formerly Miss Evelyn Young of Louisville, Ky., and by four children, John, Lucy, Dexter Jr., and Graham.

Mr. Fairbank was born in Chicago on Jan. 15, 1877, and had passed his entire life here. He is prominent in society and business. For many years he has conducted with the stock and bond houses of Babcock, Thurman & Co., 137 South La Salle street. He was a graduate of Harvard and a member of the University club. He was a brother of Kellogg and Livingston Fairbank.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed, pending the arrival of John Fairbank, who is at school in the east.

Hold Funeral Tomorrow
for Dr. Norman Kerr

Dr. Norman Kerr, attending surgeon at the Hennepin hospital, died late Monday at his home, 116 Barry avenue, of heart disease. He had been ill for about a month. Dr. Kerr was 55 years old and a native of Milwaukee. Once he had been a Chicago surgeon for more than thirty-five years. He was a lieutenant colonel in the reserve medical corps and a fellow of the American College of Surgeons. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 4:30 p. m. in the Fourth Presbyterian church. Burial will be at Oberlin.

Hold Last Rites Today for Ignatius Kral of Tribune

Funeral services for Ignatius Kral, for twelve years an employe in Tribune malling department, will be held today at 9:30 p. m. in the home, 4423 Fairfield avenue. Mr. Kral died Sunday night after a short illness. He had been working for twenty-five years at the old Inter Ocean and before that by the Chicago Herald. He is survived by his widow, two daughters, Alice and Carol, and a brother, Charles Krale.

Lillian Hughes, Ex-Slave, Dies Here; Age Called 112

Lillian Hughes, colored, whose relatives say she was 112 years old, died yesterday at 1322 Mohawk street. Death was caused by complications that followed a fall at her home three months ago. Mrs. Hughes was a slave in one of the southern states until she was more than 50 years old.

The Rev. Henry S. Burrage, Editor and Writer, Dies

Kennebunkport, Me., March 9.—(AP)—Kennebunkport, Me., March 9.—(AP)—author and historian, died at his home here today, aged 88 years. He was editor of Zion's Advocate from 1873 to 1895, and later chaplain of the National Soldiers' home at Togus, Me. Hilliard, Lynchburg.

Suit Appears Again in Fashion's Register

by Corinne Lowe

NEW YORK.—(Special Correspondence)—The poor old suit hasn't been much of a social light for some time, but there are signs that it is again starting to throw off some chio rays. We use the word rays advisedly. They shoot both ways and result in checks. This design forms some of the most impressive new tailleur's this spring.

The suit most thoroughly entrenched in fashionable favor now is the chevron—checkered or plaid. The smoking jacket type—one which repeats the salient of a man's tuxedo. This is a good news for the woman with the slightest inclination to any extra girth of hips. For this sort of jacket emphasizes the defect which she most wishes to conceal. Only, in fact, for the size differences are three jaunty short jacket tailleur's.

Fortunately, though, this type is not obligatory, for there are jackets of all types. Some are long, as in the accompanying sketch, and some have the molded waist line and wrist length jacket, the classic silhouette. The jacket is a masterpiece of all these new 1926 suits. If the jacket dress, the skirt keeps quiet, and vice versa.

Today's model is of black and white chevron—checkered chevron is among the smartest of today's suit fabrics—and it is worn with a white belt buckle. A red tie is a good finishing touch. The coat is absolutely straight of line, whereas the skirt is emboldened to a bit of fulness at the sides.

Wife of B. F. Yoakum, Rail Official, Dies in New York

New York, March 9.—(AP)—Mrs. Elizabeth A. Yoakum, wife of Benjamin F. Yoakum, a director of the Seaboard Air Line and the St. Louis-San Francisco railways, died today after an illness of several months.

BRAZIL, AND SPAIN
PEACE IN L

Locarno Ple
Germany Sp

GENEVA. March crisis in the affairs of the League of Nations critical late tonight.

Contrary to the sombre forecast given out by some that the situation toward an accord, relieved indicated that three members, Brazil, Spain, closed today at the end of the council to say for the election of Germany member.

The greatest gloom off the delegations, and that only the master of Spain, again premier on his way here tonight, in the of the leaders, threatened absence of the League.

Brazil Servies U.
Afonso Mello Franco formed the council that instructions from the Brazilian republic that favor of giving Germany seat he must simultaneously all the same privilege.

According to one Mello Franco told the Brazil was not accorde seat now she would withdraw, but would veto Germany while she was a member of the council. This was brought to him whether he had made any arrangement.

Japan Jolla League. The climax of the when one member, hope tangible result from the direct question to a of the council: "Are you for the election of Germany?"

Brazil answered as while Count Quintino Spain, refused to answer, leaving, as a pronouncement that "silence is golden."

Japan was also absent, to the surprise of Talks of "Collapse".

The big powers, who to vote for Germany by reached at Locarno, they will do so.

Paul Boncour of France, a possibly collapsing warned his colleagues our repercuasion on breakup of the league.

Appeals to the British statesmen met with the council found itself in a position of deciding what would be given to other Germany, but confrontation that not even be admitted unless the name of the other countries involved.

Today's direct action question followed when a German ultimatum did not enter the council Luther and F. Stresemann would return.

Japan's Attitude.

It is learned that Japan is openly opposed to the council, a problem from another like to know how many would contain, announcing that she wants.

Japan wants whether it is the to create other permitted, reviewing the on states, she may select including Germany, which will sit for chair.

The Japanese spoke explained tonight under the same of Locarno signatures Germany's candidacy, as a candidate in the Locarno.

The cause of Poland's chair has appeared background, with mention to a supposed organization of the Germany Gets Committee. The subcommittee, under the chairman Chamberlain, recommended Germany to the League, as it included all the members.
